Storm Deaths in Northeast U.S. Near 500 Mark

Flood Dangers Eased; Brighter Prospects in Stricken Areas
Damage Enormous

NEW YORK (AP)—Mounting slowly but steadily, the counted hurricane dead in the north Atlantic states approached 500 today, but the cheering probability arose widespread floods would be averted.

From Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York, New Hampshire and Pennsylvania, there came reports the rivers were receding and even in Connecticut, previously the most gravely menaced, things looked brighter.

At Hartford 1,500 booted men, throwing up sandbags along a half mile of the Connecticut front, were holding their own against the flood in the afternoon. Some 1,400 were homeless there, but a successful fight to hold the dike line would localize the area of inundation to about 10 per cent of the city's area.

Meanwhile, as search for bodies of victims of the hurricane—the most damaging and life-destriving in the populous northeastern United States history—went forward, every report from hard-hit Rhode Island was more tragic than the last.

With its dead numbering 247, the little state had suffered damage put by Governor Quinn at $100,000,000.

FOOD SUPPLIES

In the whole area, thousands of rescue and relief workers toiled with all speed to clear communications for food supplies, to keep down contamination and possible disease, and to preserve order. Government agencies were doing their part.

Flood danger areas generally were in the valley of the Merrimack in New Hampshire and Massachusetts and on the Connecticut in that state and in Massachusetts. In New York, the Hudson crested at Albany and rolled heavily down on the southern part of the state, where river-side families were evacuating.

The Susquehanna, Chenango and Mohawk rivers also climbed, as did the Delaware, on the New Jersey-Pennsylvania border.

The known dead by states and provinces follow: Rhode Island 247, Massachusetts 112, Connecticut 57, New York 48, New Hampshire 13, Vermont 2, New Jersey 2, Quebec 2, total 483.

MARTIAL LAW IN RHODE ISLAND

Troops Control Three Cities; More Stories of Storm Tragedies Heard

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—Staggering tales of tragedy came out for the first time today from all parts of Rhode Island, hardest hit by Wednesday's hurricane.

A 4 p.m. curfew was set for downtown Providence, the capital city, and Providence, Westbury and Waukegan were placed under martial law.

Relief workers told how whole families lost their lives under the smashing force of the hurricane, which the coastguard at Watch Hill reported reached a velocity of 120 miles an hour.

At Misquamicutt 10 women attending a church social were killed when waves engulfed a cottage. Relief workers reported the narrow Charlestown sandspit wiped out and none of the 20 persons living along it have been found alive.

Mrs. Katherine Burchill of Westerly lost two children as the waves tipped over her cottage and swept it into a pond. She clung for a time to the dress of her four-month old baby, but the infant was swept to death.

MARCIA MOSS OF ROYAL CITY DIES

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Marcia Moss, 26-year-old golf star of the Vancouver Golf and Country Club, died today following a lengthy illness.

REFUGEES IN PRAGUE—While many Sudetens have crossed into Germany, the above picture radioed across the Atlantic and received by The Times today indicates there are also many Czech refugees who have fled from the border region of Czechoslovakia where numerous armed clashes have occurred since Prime Minister Chamberlain had his first talk with Chancellor Hitler Thursday of last week. Parents took their children with them in their rush to Prague.

Choose Leader Tomorrow

Anscomb and Maitland Face Conservative Delegates at Kamloops for Provincial Honor

SPECIAL TO THE TIMES
KAMLOOPS — The Conservative Party of British Columbia assembled here in convention today hoping to repeat the success which it achieved in this same hall with the choice of Hon. S. F. Tolmie in 1926.

Another Victorian, Herbert Anscomb, may win the party leadership now. He declares himself as confident tomorrow's ballot will give him a substantial majority. Against him may be arraigned only R. L. Maitland, K.C., of Vancouver, who came into the convention with well-organized support, including some leading Conservatives from Mr. Anscomb's bailiwick in Victoria.

Actually neither of these two chief contenders knows the mind of this convention. The outcome of the ballot is in complete doubt. It is very complicated by the entry of dark horses strong enough to prevent a majority on the first ballot, but the convention has no intention of adopting again the two-thirds majority rule which almost smashed the convention of 1926 and was only broken by the drafting of Dr. Tolmie.

DIFFERENCE SEEN
One thing is quite clear, however. This convention is not enthusiastic about any of the leadership material at present.

Macphail, Noted Pathologist, Dead

MONTREAL (CP)—Sir Andrew Macphail, 74, noted pathologist and lecturer, died in a hospital here today after an illness of a month.

Paris Air Raid Blast False Alarm

PARIS (CP-Havas)—Millions of Parisians stood transfixed today when at 3.40 p.m. air raid alarm sirens suddenly began their paralyzing screaming. The din lasted three minutes. Pedestrians ran for the subway. The population felt certain war had actually begun.

But the alarm was not an enemy air raid. It was a short circuit.

New York Trains Halted By Crowd

HUDSON, N.Y. (AP)—New York Central Railroad traffic was halted south of here today when spectators swarmed over the tracks watching searchers attempt to locate an airplane reportedly crashed on a mountain-side.

Japanese Gain In Hankow Drive

SHANGHAI (AP)—Japanese forces drove toward Sinyang, 100 miles north of Hankow, today in the hope of cutting the railroad between Peiping and the provisional capital.

Capt. Tennent Passes Away

Former Soldier and R.N.W.M.P. Veteran Succumbs After Long Illness

Capt. Charles Tennent, former soldier with a fine record of service in the South African campaign and the Great War, and veteran of the R.N.W.M.P., passed away this morning at his home, 1125 Rock Street, in his 75th year, after a long illness.

Captain Tennent was born at Greenock, Scotland, and came to Canada in the eighties. From 1886 to 1888 he served in the Royal Northwest Mounted Police. When the South African War broke out and as soon as Canada decided to send a contingent he was among the first volunteers to offer his services in Strathcona's Horse, under Sir Sam Steele.

When very little fighting remained to be done except the rounding up of guerrilla bands, Capt. Tennent became attached to the South African Constabulary with the rank of lieutenant (superintendent) in 1912. He then returned to Canada.

On August 14, 1914, Capt. Tennent joined the 50th Gordon Highlanders in this city, and in October of the same year became attached to the 30th Battalion with the rank of lieutenant. He crossed the Atlantic with the first contingent and with it reached France in May, 1915. Following the successful carrying out of his duties during the early days of Canada's participation, he was appointed A.D.C. and Camp Commandant of the First Division on October 1, 1915.

On September 9, 1916, he received his captaincy, and in July of the following year he was signally honored by Lieut. General Sir Arthur Currie, who recalled Capt. Tennent from the firing zone to headquarters, and appointed him his A.D.C. In February, 1918, he was invalided to Canada, and returned to Victoria to recuperate. For the last 17 years he had been in the accounting department of the Liquor Control Board. Capt. Tennent was a member of the Pro Patria branch of the Canadian Legion and the Army and Navy Veterans' Association.

He is survived by his widow at the family residence, and relatives in Great Britain. Funeral arrangements will be announced later by McCall Bros. Funeral Co.

Eyes Injured By Premature Explosion

NANAIMO (CP) — Joseph Wortel of Qualicum was in hospital here today with injuries suffered yesterday in a premature dynamite explosion. Wortel, an employee of the Olympic Logging Company, Qualicum, was engaged in road building when the accident occurred. Three dynamite sticks discharged while he was drilling a hole for a blast. Cause of the explosion was unknown. Eye injuries were considered Wortel's most severe wounds, but he was not expected to lose his sight.

Conservatives Are Welcomed

Mayor Scanlon of Kamloops Speaks at Party Convention

KAMLOOPS — Mayor C. E. Scanlon of Kamloops welcomed the delegates to the British Columbia Conservative Party convention here this morning. He urged them to forget the "horse and buggy ideas of old-time politics." Legislation based on party affiliations could never be successful. It produced social unrest and sowed the seeds of revolution "in its most dramatic form."

Clear vision and progressive thinking were essential in any modern form of government, he said. Elected representatives of the people should be the people's servants—not their dictators. Speaking of Kamloops, he said his city was the home of happy people because its government, like every successful government, kept its expenditures within revenues, paid its just obligations as soon as they were due, maintained its essential services and "worked in a spirit of compromise without regard for party affiliations."

J. H. Morgan of New Westminster, president of the British Columbia Conservative Association and chairman of the convention, thanked the mayor. He said Mr. Scanlon's remarks might well "emanate from the mouth of a good Conservative."

Among those attending the opening business session were Howard Green, M.P. for Vancouver South; W. K. Esling, M.P. for Kootenay West, and H. J. Barber, M.P. for Chilliwack. All seven Conservative members in the British Columbia Legislature were there.

French Troops on Alert

Government Issues Orders for Army To Be Prepared for Any Emergency on German Border

STRASBOURG, France (AP) — Troops along France's Belgian and German frontiers were ordered today to assume "positions of alert," it was reported in sources close to the general staff. Such an order, issued by the government, means that troops take up positions ready for an emergency.

These reports came as difficulties became manifest in the talks at Godesberg, Germany, between Prime Minister Chamberlain and Chancellor Hitler.

At Thionville, near the German frontier, it was reported sections of army engineers had been sent right to the frontier, as well as detachments of mobile guards destined to be shock troops in the event of conflict.

The orders were expected to be applied to troops in the interior if the situation became alarming.

WHEAT SHIPMENTS TO B.C. CEASE

No More From North Alberta Till Coast Elevator Space Available

EDMONTON (CP) — Shipments of wheat from Edmonton to Vancouver were halted today on orders from the Canadian Wheat Board. Terminal elevators at the coast were reported clogged.

The Wheat Board ordered that all wheat from central and northern Alberta points having a freight rate differential of four cents or more in favor of the Pacific coast would go into storage at country elevators and at government terminals in Calgary and Edmonton.

All settlements to farmers selling wheat to the board, however, will continue to be made on the "most favorable freight basis," under regulations of the board.

Finland Looks To Its Defences

HELSINKI (AP) — Army leaves were withdrawn and other undisclosed military precautions ordered today to strengthen Finland's frontiers because of the critical European political situation, it was revealed unofficially.

Czechs Reoccupy Sudeten Areas

Evacuation of Eger District Reversed on Orders From Prague

By MELVIN K. WHITE, LEATHER

Associated Press Staff Writer ASCH, Czechoslovakia — A threatened clash between a Sudeten German armed force and Czechoslovak soldiers was averted today when government troops halted their advance toward the Asch area, in Sudetenland near the German border.

The Czechoslovak troops withdrew one mile to the east off the main highway to Tirschnitz from lines they had occupied at Ober Lomma, just outside the resort town of Franzensbad. They left road patrols behind, however.

The Sudeten Germans remained behind barricades on the main highway between Eger and Asch, where they were prepared to prevent the Czechoslovaks from reoccupying Asch, home town of Konrad Henlein, Sudeten German Party leader.

The Czechoslovak troops had left Asch when the republic's surrender to the British-French partition plan was announced Wednesday.

The military again was in full control of the Eger district as far as including Franzensbad, a famous spa for heart diseases. Tirschnitz is not far from the Eger airport.

RETRACT AGREEMENTS

Czechoslovak officials and police reassumed their functions at Eger during the night. They had orders from Prague to retract agreements they had made locally with the Sudeten German leaders.

A five-man government set up in Eger by the Sudeten Germans was displaced. Sudeten German vigilance corps, which began on Wednesday to patrol the streets, disappeared and regular police returned.

The Sudeten German barricades in the Asch area had faced the government lines three miles away outside Haslau.

The critical situation developed overnight when the Czech army reversed its evacuation, hitherto bloodless, and started reoccupying the Sudetenland.

DEATHS REPORTED

Sudeten were enraged with the news of the reoccupation and the still-unverified report that 50 Sudeten Germans had been killed by Czechs as they advanced back to the old German frontier. The killings were reported from Weipert, which straddles the frontier, Grasslitz and Falkenau.

Several thousand Sudeten German volunteers remained on the line at Haslau. The normal strength of the government's Eger garrison is 400 men.

Members of Henlein's political cabinet said the German army would not interfere unless there were more bloodshed.

"We have faith Chamberlain will be able to persuade the Czech government to withdraw again," a spokesman said. "We are looking to Chamberlain as much as to Hitler to prevent serious consequences."

EIGHT KILLED IN BORDER CLASHES

Czechs and Sudeten Fight at Freidwaldau in Western Sudetenland

PRAGUE (CP) — Czechoslovak government sources reported today that eight persons were killed and many others wounded in frontier clashes last night between Sudeten German Party members and armed Czechoslovak guards.

The most serious incident was reported from the small border town of Freidwaldau, in the western part of Sudetenland. There Czechoslovak gendarmes and Sudeten clashed. Four Czechs were killed and 12 wounded.

In another fight at Habakladrau three Sudeten Party members were reported shot to death. The government said, however, that all these frontier incidents had been "liquidated" and were under investigation by Czechoslovak authorities.

Chamberlain on Firm Course

Gap in Talks With Hitler Today Result of His Terms

GOESBERG, Germany (AP) — Prime Minister Chamberlain late today sent an envoy across the Rhine to confer with Adolf Hitler's lieutenant, but the two principals of the suspended Godesberg conference remained apart.

Sir Neville Henderson, British ambassador to Germany, was the emissary chosen by the British leader to consult with German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop on the future of the negotiations intended to assure the peace of Europe.

Sir Neville crossed the river late in a tense day, marked by Chamberlain's letter to Hitler calling off their scheduled morning meeting and the Fuehrer's reply.

Paul Schmidt, Hitler's interpreter, carried the reply to Chamberlain's Petersberg Hotel at 3.35 p.m. (6.35 a.m. P.S.T.), and remained in the hotel until after 5 p.m. (8 a.m. P.S.T.).

Sir Neville Henderson and Sir Horace Wilson, Mr. Chamberlain's closest adviser, left the British delegation's hotel shortly before 6 p.m. (9 a.m. P.S.T.) to meet Von Ribbentrop at Godesberg.

The indirect negotiations with Chamberlain in which Prime Minister Chamberlain is trying to assure Europe's peace at an unprecedented price took place in a state of tense suspense today.

Half an hour before he was to meet Hitler at the Fuehrer's Hotel Dreesen headquarters here this morning, the British Prime Minister sent a letter across the Rhine calling off the meeting. Then he stayed in his hotel suite awaiting the reply.

There was no official information of what Mr. Chamberlain's letter said, but informed persons believed it outlined essential conditions for continuation of the talks.

One of Chamberlain's conditions was reported unofficially to be that Hitler help arrange a truce between the Sudeten Germans and Czechoslovaks who were reported drawn up against each other on the Sudetenland border.

BREAKDOWN LOOMS

Persons in close touch with both sides expressed fear today's developments might bring on a breakdown of the negotiations, delaying in part at least with re-drawing the frontiers of Czechoslovakia in the effort to prevent war.

It was known Mr. Chamberlain received an urgent telephone call from Prague this afternoon.

TENSION GROWS IN GERMAN CAPITAL

Reich Press Attacks New Czech Government Headed by Syrov

BERLIN (CP-Havas) — Tension in Berlin mounted today with news this morning's meeting between Chancellor Hitler and Prime Minister Chamberlain had been postponed.

Coincident with this announcement and a vehement German press onslaught on the new Prague government of General Jan Syrov, anti-aircraft defence measures in the capital were intensified.

Gen. Syrov had gone back on the former Czechoslovak government's agreement to cession of Sudetenland and was determined to resist, a Nazi spokesman charged.

Advices from the German-Czechoslovak frontier said a large number of Sudeten Germans were again fleeing over the border.

Anti-aircraft guns were placed on central buildings in the capital and preparations were noted in various sections for a black-out in case of air attack.

French General Joins Czechs

LONDON (AP) — The Czechoslovak legation announced today that General Louis Faucher of the French army had resigned his post, accepted Czechoslovak citizenship and placed himself at the disposal of Czechoslovakia's defence forces. Gen. Faucher was in Prague as head of a French military mission.

Sir Andrew Macphail In Critical Condition

MONTREAL (CP) — Sir Andrew Macphail, 74-year-old noted pathologist and author who was brought to a hospital here a month ago when taken ill at his Prince Edward Island home, is "very weak," hospital attendants reported today.

CZECH PATROLS ARE STRENGTHENED

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovakia intensively continued preparations for war tonight although she apparently was resigned to submitting to the British-French plan for cession of her Sudetenland to Germany.

Fresh troops and gendarmes were sent in overpowering numbers to numerous border towns in Sudetenland where eight persons were reported killed and many others wounded in frontier clashes last night between Sudeten German Party members and armed Czechoslovak guards.

The troops were replacements to relieve soldiers wearied by weeks of tense service as frontier guards.

Among places where patrols were strengthened were Eger, in western Sudetenland, and Grasslitz, where members of the Sudeten German "free corps" gained the upper hand last night.

Russians Rush Work on Defences

Soviet Believes Western Powers' Efforts to Halt Hitler Failing

By CHARLES P. NUTTER, Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON — Authoritative reports reaching Washington indicate the Soviet Union, convinced Chancellor Hitler has obtained a free hand in eastern Europe, is forging a protective armor for the lucrative Ukraine.

On the basis of meagre information diplomats believe the Russians, bitter over the collapse of western European efforts to stop German expansion, have speeded up their construction of a mighty line of steel from the Black Sea to the White Sea. Behind this line the red army would await any invasion.

Hitler's domination of Czechoslovakia, if and when completed, would bring the German influence or army within a hundred miles of the Ukraine. The latter is one of the richest geographical areas in the world, the possession of whose minerals and grains—in Hitler's own words in 1936—would enable Germany to "swim in wealth."

Now that France has failed to come to Czechoslovakia's aid under its treaty, Russians believe they must rely entirely on their own resources to check a reborn Germany.

The Russians' problem in the Ukraine is complicated by just such a minority issue as gave Hitler his chance in Czechoslovakia. The Ukrainians are not Russians. There has been and probably still is a powerful separatist movement in the region.

As late as 1923 the Ukraine republic was a separate country signing treaties with European nations. Then it was taken over by the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics.

Troops Moving Through Bavaria

PARIS (CP) — A Havas News Agency dispatch from Munich tonight said heavy troop movements had been taking place all day through Bavaria. The troops were moving in the direction of Austria, the dispatch said.

The troops used trucks along the Salzburg express highway, carrying full equipment and field guns, the dispatch said.

A large number of trains loaded with troops and war material also left Munich, it added.

TWO GUN-A-NOTS WILL SERVE TERMS

Mother of Indians Also Given Sentence at Smithers, B.C.

SMITHERS, B.C. (CP) — Charleston Gun-a-Noot, Indian, today was sentenced to six months and his brother, Simon, to two months' imprisonment when they pleaded guilty before Judge W. E. Fisher in County Court to charges of robbing Carl Hannawald's trading post at Bear Lake, about 100 miles north of here.

Mrs. Sarah Gun-a-Noot, mother of the two young Indians, was convicted of having intoxicating liquor in her possession and sentenced to two months' imprisonment.

A third brother, David, was still being sought by police in connection with the trading post robbery last May.

Simon Gun-a-Noot Sr., father of the convicted youths, attracted wide attention here when he evaded police for 13 years before surrendering for trial on a charge of shooting two half-breed trappers. He was acquitted and died several years later.

Macintosh Gives Keynote Speech

Plan for Youth Is Urged at Conservative Convention

KAMLOOPS (CP) — Captain MacGregor Macintosh in a speech today to the British Columbia Conservative Association convention, presented a six-point program by which he believed his party could solve one of the provincial problems of the day—providing opportunity for the youth of the province.

The legislative member for The Islands riding listed these means of accomplishing that aim:

By encouraging selective, financed, immigration of British stock to take advantage of British Columbia's roads and social service and to help broaden the burden of those services.

By less governmental interference in business and by the encouragement, through proper treatment of new industries and capital.

By a real conservative interest in the perpetuation of the greatest single asset of the province—forest products.

By an intelligent administration and encouragement of British Columbia's mining prospects.

By conserving the provincial revenue so that more may be spent on essential health, educational and social needs and put to purposes of development, rather than to patronage and waste.

By creating through sound administration a feeling of security and confidence in the future.

The address of Capt. McIntosh, party whip in the Legislature, was the keynote speech of the two-day Conservative convention which opened here this morning.

Two Candidates Woo Delegates

Conservatives Sharply Divided at Kamloops on Leadership Question

By Times Staff Representative

KAMLOOPS — The provincial Conservative convention here has brought out from every corner of British Columbia old-line Conservatives who have been in political retreat since the party debacle which culminated in the Tolmie regime.

Their optimism and confidence are inspired by the probability that in the course of political events and the fate of parties, the man they choose as leader this week-end will one day be Prime Minister of British Columbia.

Only two are definitely in the running, Herbert Anson, M.P. of Victoria, and R. L. Maitland, K.C., M.P. of Vancouver. Several others have been mentioned and they might be accorded complimentary nominations. But sentiment as expressed today, on every side is against the party again finding itself under a leader without a seat in the House, as was the case during the early part of the late Dr. Patterson's leadership.

The convention is sharply divided between the Anson and the Maitland forces. The problem before the delegates seems to revolve around the fact that the tendency is for Mr. Anson to be taken too seriously and for Mr. Maitland not to be taken seriously enough.

SPEECHES HELD UP For instance, there are Mr. Anson's "cut-to-the-bone" speeches standing against him to alienate a large part of the popular vote, although they have warmed to him the bond-clipper class. Unfortunately, for him, the coupon clippers are very much in the minority throughout this province.

ENTERTAINING As for Mr. Maitland, he is known as a highly amusing after dinner speaker, noted for his ability to put over good stories. His campaign speeches are spirited and stir applause as he indulges in his habit of "tearing the hide" off his opponents. But the trouble has been that the public, outside his own constituency, where he is personally very popular, consider his attacks merely as good entertainment, and go out to vote for the victims of his lashings.

There is no unanimity among the island or the lower mainland groups here in their support of Anson or Maitland respectively. Outspoken among the islanders are a number who believe the time has come for B.C. Conservatism to discard hard-shell Toryism in the face of changing economic and social circumstances and turn its face in a "new deal" direction. This, they believe, the party could not do under Mr. Anson.

Mr. Maitland, on the other hand, is without the support of the powerful Vancouver centre delegates. They have turned against him because of his recent "no patronage" speech.

This speech is considered by the politicians to have been a major faux pas, especially on the part of a man seeking leadership, and doubly so with respect to centre Vancouver, for if there is one thing centre Vancouver values highly, it is patronage.

Mr. Anson's this morning opened a vigorous drive to win over delegates. He took over half of the ground floor of the Plaza Hotel, stocked it fittingly and marked it with a banner, with foot-high letters brought from Victoria as "Herb Anson's reception room." Over at Leland Hotel, Mr. Maitland has set up a similar delegate-wooing organization.

There is disappointment that Dr. Manion, federal Conservative leader, has been forced to cancel his visit to this convention. His absence is viewed as a break in Mr. Anson's favor, as it was feared that delivery here of one of Dr. Manion's "new deal" speeches might swing the convention away from the orthodoxy which Mr. Anson has been preaching.

Rolph Bruhn, former Tolmie cabinet minister, who was a leader in the Unionist move away from the Conservative Party, arrived at the convention. He announced he was here merely as a "political observer" and not as one to be welcomed back to the fold.

BUSINESS GAINS OF TWO LANDS LINKED

S. R. Noble of Royal Bank, Says Swing in Canada Depends on U.S.

MONTREAL (CP)—The economic depression of 1937-38 was "really an unfortunate incident in a trend which is fundamentally upward," S. Randolph Noble, assistant general manager of the Royal Bank of Canada, declared before the Canadian Purchasing Agents' Association convention here today.

"We assume that political sanity will gradually return," said the banker. "General conditions throughout the world are, in my opinion, not unfavorable for a steady improvement in business, and, as a result of the revaluation of gold, a considerable new force is added, making a continued rise in the general price level."

Returning prosperity in Canada is dependent on recovery in the United States, he considered. Discussing business conditions in Alberta, he said they were generally good, and there was "little or no evidence that banking debitors will make any effort to take advantage of the (debt moratorium) situation to evade debts they are able to pay."

To speak with a pleasant voice, you must give full and correct value to the vowels. A theatrical producer states that of 300 girls interviewed, he found only two that could say "no" properly.

Canadian Fighters Soon Home From Spain

BARCELONA (AP)—The Spanish government army's Canadian and other foreign volunteers are expected to be out of the trenches and on their way home by the first of the new year.

It was estimated today evacuation of all foreigners, in compliance with Premier Juan Negrin's announcement Tuesday, that they would be withdrawn, could be completed within three months.

At Burgos yesterday official spokesmen charged the Spanish government's announcement it would repatriate all its foreign volunteers was only a disguised manoeuvre toward mediation which would be flatly rejected.

Fleet Assembles At Alexandria

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt (CP-Havas)—Eighteen British warships arrived here yesterday, the vanguard of a great naval assembly which in the next few days will bring almost the entire Mediterranean fleet for manoeuvres.

SWEDISH MANOEUVRES

STOCKHOLM (AP)—The Swedish government yesterday ordered one-fourth of its reserve troops, now engaged in autumn manoeuvres, to remain in service indefinitely because of the international situation.

Canada Gathers Big Fruit Crop

OTTAWA (CP)—A Dominion Bureau of Statistics fruit crop report says preliminary estimate of Canada's 1938 apple crop was 5,029,400 barrels, compared with the 1937 production of 5,149,100.

Estimates of other fruits, with production figures for 1937 in brackets: Peas, 485,000 bushels (446,200); peaches, 706,000 bushels (664,800); plums and prunes, 205,800 bushels (198,400); cherries, 188,000 bushels (153,000); strawberries, 22,570,200 quarts (23,524,100); raspberries, 9,484,600 quarts (8,600,000); grapes, 38,804,000 pounds (54,384,800).

General prospects of the Canadian fruit crop are very bright, according to the report. The only crop showing an appreciable reduction from last year is grapes, and a sharp decline in the estimates in Ontario accounted for the reduction in the Dominion total. The only other province producing grapes is British Columbia, where a slight gain is shown.

The apple crop continues to develop exceedingly well in all districts, and estimates show the crop to be only slightly below that of last year. A big improvement in crop prospects this month over last month is reported in Ontario, where an increase over last year is recorded. The crop throughout Canada is reported to be of high color and the fruit is of better than normal size. Although side-worm and scab have caused some injury, chiefly in British Columbia and Ontario, the crop as a whole is reported to be generally clean.

The pear crop throughout the Dominion is reported to be of exceptionally fine quality, and estimates show a substantial increase over last year. Peaches, plums and cherries also record some increase over the 1937 crop, and the quality is reported to be better than average.

RIOT CHARGE CASE REMANDED

Special Constable Accused
And Habeas Corpus
Proceedings Launched in Blubber Bay Case

VANCOUVER (CP)—Special British Columbia Police Constable Andrew Williamson stood remanded today until Saturday after being charged yesterday with inflicting grievous bodily harm and assault occasioning actual bodily harm. The charges were laid by Robert Gardiner, a striker now in the hospital at Powell River, as the result of the labor riot at Blubber Bay last Saturday night.

John Stanton, counsel for the strikers, announced he intended applying for a writ of habeas corpus to release John Hole, secretary of the International Woodworkers of America, a Committee for Industrial Organization affiliate, charged with inciting to riot.

Twenty-one strikers are facing charges in connection with the riot.

Stanton said John Doe warrants had also been issued for arrest of two unidentified nonstriking employees on charges of common assault. He said he would also apply for habeas corpus writs to release two strikers held in the Oakalla Jail pending hearing so they could go to Blubber Bay and identify their alleged attackers.

Stanton said he also has applied to Attorney General Winter for a fiat to sue the crown for damages in connection with Saturday night's fight.

Meanwhile, telegrams protesting police action in the strike and demanding official investigations were sent to legislative members at Ottawa and Victoria.

POLISH MINERS IN FRANCE AGITATE

Fifty Parade in Fresnes
And Demand Independence
For 200,000 Poles

VALENCIENNES, France (AP)—Fifty Polish miners paraded through the town of Fresnes today demanding independence for the 200,000 Poles living in northern France. Police dispersed them and seized swastika (Nazi) flags the miners carried. Most of the 200,000 Poles are miners imported after the Great War to replace depleted French manpower.

Police said they found cards of the German Labor Front on several Polish miners who were arrested. They said the miners acknowledged they were paid 12 francs (32 cents) a month by German Nazis and received pamphlets urging them to seek autonomy within the French republic.

Ontario Apple Crop Above 1937

TORONTO (AP)—The Ontario fruit and vegetable statistics committee estimates the province's apple production at 825,400 barrels, an increase of 13 per cent over 745,300 barrels last year. A gain of 37 1/2 per cent in eastern Ontario's crop more than offsets a decline of 23 per cent in anticipated production in the western part of the province.

Total plum production is estimated at 57,000 bushels, compared with 56,000 last year. The pear crop is put at 193,600, up 4 per cent. Grape production is figured at 30 per cent below 1937 because grapes have a one and two-bunch set compared with last year's two and three-bunch set. Grapes should boost 18,200 tons. A 5 per cent boost in peach production, 552,000 bushels, is forecast.

UNION OF CANADA AND U.S. FORESEEN

American Mercury
Publishes Opinion of R. W.
Scott, Ottawa Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A novel argument purporting to show the probability of United States-Canadian "anschluss" appeared in the magazine American Mercury yesterday, in an article by Richard W. Scott, Ottawa writer.

So confident does the writer feel about the eventual consummation of the North American "anschluss," that he predicts Ontario "will cast her 13 votes for Roosevelt"—if son James succeeds his father-President as Democratic candidate for the United States Presidency in 1940. Developing the thesis that "Canada eventually will form a political union with that country which exercises the greatest influence on her material development—the United States," Mr. Scott argues that immigration and trade between the two nations, as well as the cultural influence exerted through reading, radio and sports, are drawing them closer together.

The Canadian writer lists immigration statistics for the six years ended in 1936 and draws the conclusion that during that period the Dominion had a total immigration of 165,488, of whom 121,321 had for varying lengths of time lived in the United States.

German Ex-soldiers Greeted in London

LONDON (AP)—Former British soldiers yesterday entertained 800 of their old German foes. The Germans came to London as guests of the British Legion. Their cruise ship, flying the swastika and draped in Nazi colors, lay in the Thames.

About 7,000 persons are drowned in the United States each year.

WOMAN USED AS SHIELD BY BANDIT

Two Killed When Holdup
Of Chicago Handbook
Frustrated by Police

CHICAGO (AP)—Two men were killed and four other persons, including a young woman who was used as a bandit's shield, were wounded in a furious gun battle last night during an attempted hold-up at a handbook across the street from a north side police station here.

Police Capt. Patrick J. O'Connell identified the dead men as Jon D. Bozula, 33, a bookmaker, apparently shot when he resisted the robbers, and Jimmy Gilroy, one of the gunmen.

As O'Connell reconstructed the shooting, three bandits entered the handbook place and started collecting from about a dozen customers. They had taken only $6 when policemen rushed across from the station.

The robbers dashed for a rear door, but spotting several policemen in an alley, retreated with guns blazing.

Charles Lane, one of the robbers, attempted to shoot his way out using Miss Lillian Summerfield, 18, a dancer, as a shield. Policemen returned the fire, wounding and capturing Lane. In the exchange of shots, Miss Summerfield was critically wounded in the chest.

Gilroy was shot as he tried to run out the front door. Policemen Joseph O'Malley and Otto List suffered painful bullet wounds.

Police arrested the third robber, identified as William Righ-ton. He was not injured.

Fernie Man Is Hunting Victim

FERNIE (CP)—Joseph Kosiec, 28-year-old resident of Fernie, was brought to hospital here last night with gunshot wounds in the chest suffered in a hunting accident near Hosmer, B.C., nine miles east of here.

British Columbia police said they had been advised of the accident, the first hunting accident of the season, by Alexander Mac-Cormick, also of Fernie.

The report said MacCormick mistook his hunting companion for a deer, wounding him in the chest.

Kosiec's injuries were reported not serious.

DIES FROM INJURIES

VANCOUVER (CP)—Gordon Hendry, 44, died in a hospital here yesterday from injuries suffered Saturday when struck by a wire cable at a sawmill here at which he was employed.

Hendry was injured when he reached over the cable to tighten it, the wire striking him as the slack was taken up.

Thirty Killed in Palestine Clashes

JERUSALEM (CP-Havas)—Thirty persons were killed and three wounded in new terrorist outbreaks throughout Palestine yesterday. With the exception of one Jew, all killed were Arabs.

Two British soldiers were wounded, one seriously, in a fight with an armed band near Safed. The rebels lost 21 men. Three planes co-operated with the troops.

Eight Arabs were killed in other clashes, four of them in a skirmish with police near Nazareth.

Farms and Factories In Russia All Have Their Creches

By PETER STURSEBERG
IN RUSSIA.

OF COURSE, every factory and collective farm in the Soviet Union has its creche or creches and almost everything else seems to have a creche, too. Anywhere the mother may go there is a nursery where she can leave her baby, and work or play, and sometimes there is even a nursery while she is on her way.

The creches are absolutely necessary as housing conditions are still bad and do not allow for nurseries at home. Even if they did, it is doubtful if the mother would make use of them, for her baby would not get the care and attention of trained nurses and specialists which it would receive in the public places.

The creches which I saw, quite often connected with second-rate factories, were absolutely first class. They were always in separate buildings and were beautifully light and airy and spotlessly clean. Some of them were on a lavish scale, fit nurseries for the sons and daughters of princes and kings. One of the most magnificent was in the Khimki Port of the new Moscow Volga Canal. This was simply for the children of people taking excursions on the canal or just visiting the canal.

Service of the nurseries is absolutely free; the only thing the mother has to pay for is food. At the Svoboda soap and cosmetic factory, which had two creches, three kindergartens and a children's camp, due to the fact that 92 per cent of its 3,000 workers were women, the cost of keeping a baby all day in a creche was 36 roubles a month, and all day and night 50 roubles a month.

The street cars in Moscow are still terribly crowded, despite the fact they have trolley cars and busses, and plenty of them now. The last two cars of my number were packed to the steps but the first car was almost empty, so I boarded the first car.

A woman conductor jabbered at me for a while then gave up when she realized I was an intourist and accepted my 15 kopeks. I sat down, feeling that this was indeed a new experience in Russia. It was then that I realized there was something different about this car.

All kinds of toys hung from the ceiling, there was a carpet on the floor and curtains in the windows, and the seats were newly painted and clean.

I was in one of the nursery cars which are put on at certain hours and are reserved for mothers with babies.

CONVENES AGAINST "WAR AND RADICALISM"—It was the opening session of the 20th annual convention of the American Legion, and here you see the three leaders who presided and the assembly of 7,500 delegates and visitors jamming the auditorium at Los Angeles. A Snag?

WE ARE TOLD THAT WHEN MR. Chamberlain left Herr Hitler after nearly three hours of intimate conversation yesterday the two shook hands and smiled. Just what they said to one another has not been made public. As we write this, however, it would seem to be evident that the British Prime Minister told the head of the Nazi state that both Great Britain and France had contributed their maximum efforts in behalf of peace when they persuaded the Prague government to yield to the demand for cession of Sudetenland to Greater Germany. Unless all speculation at this stage is wide of the mark, therefore, Reichsfuehrer Hitler, having gained so much, tried to get more from Mr. Chamberlain—and failed. Political conditions in France and growing hostility to the Czechoslovakian "deal" in England no doubt had something to do with the cancellation of the Godesberg conversations which were to have been resumed this morning.

If this be so, to Herr Hitler may already have been transferred the duty of making the next move, which, of course, can mean in the final analysis one of two things: Either German troops will invade Czechoslovakia in force, or he will accept the apparently stiffer Anglo-French stand as a warning that he be satisfied with his bargain, at least, for the time being. Invasion on a large scale undoubtedly would produce a first-class war of incalculable dimensions and the ultimate eclipse of the Fuehrer and his Nazi philosophy. Whether conflict at some future date would remain in the realm of probability, if war shall be avoided by the present suggested compromise, will depend upon the nature of the safeguards—blessed and overworked term!—that can be erected.

Upon two dispatches received at this stage we base the suggestion that Reichsfuehrer Hitler's plans—already formulated or easy of adaptability as the course of events may determine—have met with a slight hitch. One comes from Paris and let it be known to members of his own Radical Socialist party that "if Germany enters Czechoslovakia France will face her engagements." His country, of course, is pledged to go to the war-born republic's aid if it should be the victim of "unprovoked aggression." The other stiffer note was sounded in Geneva this afternoon by Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet Russia's Commissar for Foreign Affairs, who said that his country might voluntarily go to the aid of Czechoslovakia, "but no one can insist on this help as a duty."

If the picture we have drawn from the material at our disposal as this is written should more or less conform to the march of events, it can be said that it is now being recognized more vividly by key British and French statesmen that unless Hitler's eastern march shall be stopped before too much progress has been made, the day will not be long in dawning on which the present rulers of Greater Germany will be able to boast of a much Greater Germany that will accomplish by conquest, without consultation, what she had hoped to accomplish by easy stages with the proper application of the blackmailers' bluff.

Up In Kamloops

UP IN THE PROGRESSIVE AND SUNNY city of Kamloops representative members of the Conservative Party of British Columbia are in convention today. These estimable men and women will take stock, carefully examine the "goods" which have been on the "shelves" since 1933, and select a new "salesman" to succeed the late Dr. Frank Patterson. Unless unforeseen circumstances shall develop—these, of course, depend upon how well the chief "floor-walkers" have discharged their duties—the number of applicants for the coveted position will be narrowed down to two. These are Mr. Herbert Anson, senior Conservative member of the Legislature for Victoria, and Mr. R. L. Maitland, K.C., senior Conservative member for Vancouver's Point Grey.

To drop the metaphor, it remains to be seen what the delegates have in mind as a new appeal for support at the polls, what they think will change the general attitude of the public sufficiently to elect the requisite number of Conservatives, when the time comes, to take office. The people of the province showed in a convincing manner in 1933 that they regretted having exchanged a Liberal government for a Conservative government five years previously. A little more than a year ago they endorsed Mr. Pattullo's administration in an overwhelming manner. Three months ago they increased the government's tally in the Legislature by again electing a Liberal in Dewdney after that constituency had been represented for a very short period by the late leader of the Conservative Party.

These are the facts—the mirror in which the considered opinion of the voters is reflected—facing the delegates to the convention now in session. For all we know, Mr. Anson or Mr. Maitland may have talents for leadership of which the people of British Columbia are totally unaware, but which may be brought out under exacting conditions from which the rank-and-file member is free. Both are excellent and able citizens, good British Columbians, but the fortunes of the Conservative Party, provincially as well as federally, are at a very low ebb. The people as a whole are thinking more for themselves today than ever before. This is far from a good omen for Conservatism.

Nature's Visitation

WHILE STATESMEN IN EUROPE wrestle with a condition which has grown increasingly menacing because of a mental malady which has no right to exist, Dame Nature has disturbed the Atlantic seaboard over a substantial area of the north-eastern United States, and to a small degree the shores of Quebec, in one of her most violent manifestations. As this is written the death toll is in the neighborhood of 500, with property damage mounting by millions from hour to hour.

Unlike the present temper of Europe, however, no fortune on this continent has aroused to the full that inexhaustible instinct for mutual aid and compassion which knows no political boundaries, no international rivalries or their brood, but which meets the common leveler with unshaken stoicism. We of the fortunate west send our messages of condolence to the stricken part of this land in its hour of travail.

Italy's New Status

IT WOULD NOT BE SURPRISING IF those good people of the Warwick and Leamington constituency who heard Rt. Hon. Anthony Eden at Stratford-on-Avon on Wednesday felt a little proud of the fact that it was their own member of the House of Commons who refused to deal with Premier Mussolini last February.

But there is this to be said for Mussolini: He has done his best in the last few days to get the peoples of the world to remember that he is still doing business at the old totalitarian stand. Not much of his sound and fury, however, seems to have registered. His brother-in-law of Berlin, of course, has much more important matters to consider than Italy's declaration of readiness to "face drama" if called upon. Roumanian observers, incidentally, already are beginning to allude to Italy as a vassal of Germany—a nasty one for the great exponent of chin and chest expansion.

Mr. Eden is naturally too seriously concerned about the recent tragic developments to say out loud that he thanks his lucky stars he had nothing to do with the Anglo-Italian "friendship pact."

Test of Constancy

IT IS NOT FOR US TO PASS JUDGMENT on the wisdom or otherwise of wives giving their husbands unqualified permission to have the time of their lives when they go forth alone on their annual holidays. But the thing has been done—in Australia. One, Ron Whyte, on his first jollification since the war, arrived in Sydney recently with the following "permit" for all whom it might concern to read:

"This is to certify that I, Jack, the legally wedded wife of Ron Whyte, do hereby permit my husband to go wherever he pleases, drink when he pleases and whatever he pleases, and I furthermore permit him to keep and enjoy the company of any lady he sees fit, as I know he is a good judge. I want him to back horses and enjoy life in this world, for he will be a long time dead."

The "Jack" is feminine in this instance and the document bears Mrs. Whyte's full signature. This is well and good so far as it goes. But it would be interesting to learn the sequel. Did the aforesaid Ron render unto his lawful spouse a true and complete record of all his doings? And, what is more important still, was she satisfied with the manner in which he complied with the obviously elastic provisions of the "permit"? Thereby, perhaps, hangs a tale.

Having been told by his physicians that he must not read, write or talk, a question arises: Does Bernard Shaw exist?

Comes an announcement of the discovery of a process for making champagne in 60 days flat. Now what is the point of making it flat?

A traffic expert discloses that one out of five drivers regularly risks his life. The assumption is that the other four regularly risk somebody else's.

NAZI AND COMMUNIST

Nazi policy is revolutionary, no less than Communist policy. They are opposite sides of the same coin. The Communist movement in Germany had become formidable before Hitler took it over when the National Socialist party came to power. Perhaps even more than Soviet Russia, Nazi and Fascist hope of world power is through violent revolution in other countries. The sure way to revolution is along the path of war. Until the democracies find a better answer to Fascism than reliance on armaments to maintain the old order, there is every likelihood that the risk of war will continue to grow.

Hitler's declaration that he is "ready to take all risks and run all dangers" is no empty threat. He is bound to keep on looking for opportunities to foment Nazi revolution in other countries. He will continue to employ disruptive agencies and ally himself with reactionary forces to weaken the political democracies and promote racial and national conflicts wherever it may be advantageous to do so. In too many lands under political democracy, the ground is being prepared for Fascism in one form or another by the failure of the present ruling authorities to lead along any more hopeful path.

NEEDED INVENTION

WITH ALL THEIR cleverness the inventors and experts have overlooked one obvious improvement in our way of living. I mean telephone bells. Nothing could be more barbarous and primitive than the telephone bell. Here is a wonderful instrument of communication and enlightenment, the product of a highly-developed civilization, and yet it is attached to an alarm which might have come out of the jungle; a bell very similar to that tied to a cow or a goat; a shrill, screaming thing such as they used to have for waking up firemen and fire horses.

The telephone is continually improved and its scope widened all over the world, and yet it still screams at you as it did when it was first invented, still jangles your nerves and often causes heart failure among the aged.

The obvious thing to do with the telephone is to attach beautiful chimes to it, so that when a friend rings you up you are in a peaceful, friendly humor, not on edge and hostile, hating the man who has broken your peace. Or the scientists could easily invent a gadget which played a tune when the telephone rang. The telephone that I'm working on now will play jazz or the classics, as you wish, according to your mood.

OTHER WAR TIMES

DURING THE WORLD WAR, Dr. Halliday Sutherland, distinguished physician and author, served as ship's doctor on an armed merchant-cruiser (Empress of Britain), and one of his duties was to censor the letters of 400 people, officers and men.

"From that experience I learned a great lesson—that humanity was far better than anything I had thought it to be," he says (in "The Arches of the Years"). "There were a few exceptions, such as the boy who wrote this:

"Dear Grandpa and Grandma: I hope this finds you as it leaves me, in the pink. We are having a hard time, but it's grand to be fighting under the dear old flag."

"Yesterday we had a brush with the enemy. They came alongside, threw their grappling irons and boarded us. We drove them back with our cutlasses, and I can tell you the decks were dripping with blood. Both our surgeons should have the V.C. (Victoria Cross), the way they looked after the wounded amid the shot and shell. I am quite well."

"Your loving grandson."

"P.S.—It's quite safe to send postal orders, and the paymaster will cash them."

"In the confident belief that no editor in England would publish such a letter, I let it go," adds Dr. Sutherland.

Stories about "McCosh of Princeton"—James McCosh, eminent Scottish divine and president of Princeton University from 1868 to 1888—are many, amusing, and are fast becoming legendary. One has him in his later life recalling his Edinburgh days:

"I have drunk whiskey with men who have drunk whiskey with Burns."

But then pausing, for he was entertaining students in his own house at Princeton and was now a foe of intemperance, he went on:

"Um—mer—I have talked with men who have drunk whiskey with Burns."

Another—told by A. M. de Wolfe Howe in his study of Dr. McCosh in "Classic Shades"—has it that one of his sons was showing a young visitor about a museum out of which the president of Princeton's office then opened. Here stood a reconstructed dinosaur, or some such prehistoric monster, with the toes of one foot differing in color from the rest of the creature. The son was explaining that these were artificial, made merely to complete the figure.

"Nae," came a deep voice from Dr. McCosh's office, "the toes were what they began with."

LYRIC AT END OF THE SEASON

I have been close to Nature, her sunshine and her storms.
By holding, as the poet said, communion with her forms.
For primitive endurance my record's sitting pretty—
And my thoughts are fondly turning to a colfure in the city.

Oh I have met a millionaire and an economist,
And other sun-browned males whose names I'm proud enough to list.
Of flattering attention I've had plenty and to spare—
But my inmost soul is yearning for the man who does my hair.

Farewell, farewell to summer! Good-bye to sky and sea!
Auf wiedersehen and au revoir to marsh and moor and lea!
The trees are prophylactic, the hills are strong to save—
And all my heart is longing for a decent finger-wave.

Rosh Hashonoh

Synagogues and temples will be filled with worshippers on Sunday evening, September 25, to herald the approach of the Jewish New Year, or Rosh Hashonoh. To celebrate this solemn holiday, special services will be held for one day in Reform Temples and in Orthodox Synagogues for two days.

The blowing of the ram's horn in synagogues throughout the world will call adherents of Judaism to reflection and repentance. Rosh Hashonoh literally means "the beginning of the year," and this year the holy day ushers in the year 5699, anno mundi.

In ancient times this festival marked the beginning of the agricultural and economic year in Palestine. With the destruction of the temple in Jerusalem and the dispersion of the people, the holy day began to mean a time of prayer and meditation, of self-scrutiny, and of penitence. This interpretation of the holiday comes from the rabbinical tradition that the New Year commemorates the anniversary of creation, the day upon which all people of the world are conceived as passing in review before their Creator for judgment.

The prayers of the day are filled with the message of justice. The sound of the Shofar calls for remembrance of God's laws and one's obligations to his fellow men.

Rosh Hashonoh is a day on which family ties are strengthened and friendships are renewed. Encompassing the ideas of divine justice and human responsibility, the day begins "The Ten Days of Penitence" which culminate in Yom Kippur, or the Day of Atonement. During this period, Jews are given the opportunity to reflect on the past year and to repent of wrong done. If the repentance is sincere, forgiveness is attained on Yom Kippur, the solemn festival of the Day of Atonement, which closes the penitential season.

GESTAPO IN QUEBEC

From Winnipeg Free Press

Saturday Night recently recounted an example of the scandalous conduct of the Montreal police who forced their way into a private meeting which was being held in the Fireside Room of the Central Y.M.C.A. There were present, besides the police officers, 10 persons, all members of the Montreal Youth Council, and most of them leaders of the Y.M.C.A. and church organizations. This invasion of the rights of private persons peaceably following quite legal purposes is a scandal which defaces the name of liberty in this country, and it is high time action was taken to rid Canada of this pestilential enactment of the Quebec government.

FEELS "SOLD-OUT"

To the Editor:—Heretofore I have been an ardent imperialist, loyal to our King! Tonight I am ashamed of my British status. I no longer have any desire to be termed a British subject. Why? Because Britain has fallen in my estimation. And the pity of it all is that the man who unfortunately heads the British Cabinet has sold out his countrymen, women and children to the European butchers. Dishonored before the world—such is this galaxy of nations now. Still Britishers? No, a thousand times no—Canadians! Britishers, all who would sooner have their honor, raise your voices in unison—No surrender to Hitler and Mussolini!

Oh, that this day should have dawned to see the glorious British Empire groveling at the feet and suing for peace at the expense of one of the least among the nations of the world! Ananias was a gentleman alongside some of our leaders. British opinion, raise your voice! Eternal shame to Chamberlain and Britain!

Miss Ruth Bostock Is Married at Monte Creek

Daughter of Late Senator Bride Of Mr. A. M. Fallis

A wedding of much interest in Victoria, the bride and her family having formerly resided here, was solemnized in St. Peter's Church, Monte Creek, B.C., Wednesday morning at 11.30 between Ada Ruth, youngest daughter of the late Hon. Hewitt Bostock and of Mrs. Bostock, "The Ranch", Monte Creek, and Mr. Albert Murray Fallis, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. William Fallis of Palmerston, Ontario.

Rev. C. Kirksey performed the ceremony in the little church, which was beautifully decorated with masses of autumn flowers and filled with friends of the bride.

Mr. A. P. Horne, a cousin of the bride, gave her in marriage. She was lovely in her wedding gown, fashioned in redingote style of white lace over satin, the flared skirt of lace opening in front to show a panel of the satin and flaring at the back to form a brief train. The bodice was buttoned up the front with self-covered buttons and finished with a Medici collar, and long fitting sleeves. Her veil of white tulle was worn beneath a wreath of orange blossoms, tiny sprays of the blossoms catching back the folds of the veil. She wore a sprig of white heather sent from Scotland, and carried a bouquet of white anemone and japonica.

After the service a largely attended reception was held by Mrs. Bostock at The Ranch House, the reception rooms being arranged with autumn flowers and foliage.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Fallis left for a honeymoon at the coast, the bride traveling in a tailored suit of handwoven Paris blue tweed with matching accessories and a mink choker. They will make their home in Toronto.

Deserted Baby Boy Presents Problem

VANCOUVER (CP) — A six-week-old baby boy and a bundle of infants' clothing presented police with a problem last night. Mrs. J. Shand reported to police she found the happily-gurgling infant in a wicker basket on her back veranda, pinned to the basket was a note addressed to her. It said:

"Keep this baby for six weeks," asked her not to inform police, and gave detailed instructions on the baby's feeding.

While police were at Mrs. Shand's home a delivery man came with a bundle of baby clothes. He said the bundle had been checked downtown with instructions to deliver it to Mrs. Shand's address.

The baby was taken to an infants' home while police continued their investigation.

Dodge's Widow to Fight for Her "Rights"

Ex-telephone Girl Wants More Than $250,000

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — Mrs. Laurine Macdonald Dodge, widow of Daniel C. Dodge, heir to an automobile fortune, who drowned in Georgian Bay after a dynamite explosion, is stated by her lawyer as out to obtain her "rights as a widow."

The lawyer, Paul Oren of Detroit, made the statement yesterday in announcing the daughter of a Gore Bay, Ont., tugboat captain and former telephone operator, was directing a legal battle to break the Dodge will and obtain what she believes to be a fair share of the $10,000,000 estate.

Dodge left his widow $250,000, giving most of the remainder of his fortune to his mother, Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson of Rochester, Mich. She is the widow of John F. Dodge, one of the founders of the fortune.

Asked if "rights as a widow" meant one-third of the total estate, Oren said Mrs. Dodge's claim could not be stated in terms of a fraction of the whole.

Diplomat's Wife Had Narrow Escape

Countess and Baby Reach Haven After Hurricane

WEST HAMPTON, N.Y. (AP)

A countess who fled in overalls with her small baby clasped to her breast and a retinue of servants splashing at her heels gave thanks today that Providence had seen fit to spare her from Wednesday night's hurricane.

Still shaken from the ordeal, Countess Charles de Vontenouville, wife of the French consul-general in New York, related her experience.

The refugee countess, who was out of her own summer place shortly before it collapsed, found a haven in the home of Rep. O'Connor.

Dishevelled and white-faced, the diplomat's wife came out of the storm, still clinging to her 23-month-old daughter, Anne. She had discarded her overalls because they impeded her flight and was wearing only her underclothing when she reached the O'Connors.

But she said she was glad to be alive.

"I am convinced we were spared because of the baby," she said. "Providence looked down upon us through her eyes." The English-born countess said her first thought when the storm broke was of an earthquake.

A YOUNG HEROINE

She went with two friends to the bath and one got into difficulties. The other man dived after him but also got into difficulties. Audrey dived off the board and rescued them both. She applied artificial respiration for a while and then obtained help. Both men were saved.

Audience Charmed By Gordon Manley

Young Pianist Wins Cordial Applause at Empress Recital

By G. J. D.

Gordon Manley won cordial applause when he gave a piano recital at the Empress Hotel ballroom yesterday.

He came with a message superbly exemplified, and is a young man at the threshold of a promising future with those essentials that reach to high places.

He has an astounding technical equipment, temperament, musicianship and vision. His tone is full and of singing quality, and he appears to have an ample supply in reserve to meet the resources of the modern pianoforte.

His program, built on the lines of distinguished performers heard in concert, opened with the Busoni arrangement of the famous "Chaconne" for violin by Bach, played with dignified sentiment and a compelling force.

The contrasting Mozart "Sonata in A Major" was imbued with this composer's characteristic spontaneity, grace, simplicity and constant refreshing beauty.

It was the Chopin group, three popular numbers, that conveyed the poetic brilliance and resourcefulness of the player to his receptive listeners, the witchery of the Ballade in F minor, was reflective of mood, the ravishing beauty of the Etude in E major, was delightful, and the ever incomparable Scherzo in B flat minor had alternating passion, tenderness and beauty, the recitalist meeting with prolonged applause.

The second group contained five numbers, "Chant d'Amour" and "Valse in D" by the player's former master, Stojowski; two by Scriabin, and the concluding "Capriccio" in B minor (Dohnanyi).

The first mentioned were much enjoyed. The two Scriabin short pieces to the writer, conveyed nothing, on the other hand, Dohnanyi's "Capriccio," in its waywardness and frisky rhythm was altogether delightful and the audience evidently appreciated the astonishing variety and freedom with which Gordon Manley invested it.

One thing in conclusion, Mr. Manley will reach greater things with a little less "pronouncement" of his left hand.

The recital was given under the auspices of the I.O.D.E.

Solarium Fund Appeal Made

Concert Given By Women's Auxiliary of Institution

An appeal for further funds for the Queen Alexandra Solarium was made last evening at a concert held in the Victoria Truth Centre Hall by the Women's Auxiliary of the institution.

The feature of the program was a motion picture, presented by Douglas Flintoff, chairman of the concert, showing the story of a successful fight to bring crippled children back to sound, healthy and physically strong bodies.

In a brief address during an intermission, Lieut.-Col. Hugh Allan, vice-president of the Solarium, presented an urgent appeal for additions to the funds of the institution. Between $7,000 and $10,000 was required in excess of government or municipal grants, he said, and this had to be raised through donations and subscriptions.

The Solarium had an endowment fund created by donations left by generous people, Col. Allan said. The fund was such that the amount could be invested and in due course the income from the investments would be sufficient to pay current expenses. It could not be used for ordinary operating accounts though, and it was necessary now to secure additional aid to carry on the work of restoring health to the younger generation.

The balance of the program consisted of a novelty tap dance by Miss Patricia Richardson, solo by Miss Iris Smith, humorous songs by Miss Vivienne Combe and a monologue by James McGrath. The accompanist was Miss Kathleen Irvine.

Other motion pictures shown were colored scenes of Hatley Park, a comedy film, "The Iron Horse," and an educational film on "Sea Lions on the Pacific Coast."

Mr. Flintoff reviewed the work of the Solarium and praised the work of the auxiliary in its efforts to aid in the curing of the ill of the younger generation.

"An increased membership would help the auxiliary in its work," he said.

Any who cared to join were asked to phone Empire 4821.

The proceeds of the concert amounted to $53.

Edgar Bergen in New U.S. Who's Who

CHICAGO (AP)—Charlie McCarthy has talked Edgar Bergen into something else—"Who's Who in America." Ventriloquist Bergen is one of 2,545 newcomers among the 31,545 outstanding contemporary men and women whose biographies are included in the 50th anniversary edition.

When a law student in London, Mahatma Gandhi was one of the best-dressed young men in school.

FOR DEFENCE OF CZECHS—If the new government of Czechoslovakia, headed by Gen. Jan Syrový, finds it necessary to use force against any move of invading foreign troops into what is left of its country after the loss of Sudetenland to Germany it will have at its command numerous "pony" tanks. As pictured above, the fast little machines are piebald with camouflage, a disguise also used by the Czechs on their big tanks and armored railway cars.

Letters to the Editor

WOMEN'S WORKROOM

To the Editor:—On the eve of another campaign for Community Chest funds, may I, on behalf of the Women's Workroom Executive Committee, express our great appreciation of the freedom from financial worry which the Community Chest of Greater Victoria has afforded us.

Since the inception of the Women's Workroom the public has supported it most generously but from time to time there were anxious weeks when we saw our bank balance steadily diminishing and wondered if it help would come soon enough. And now, for nearly a year, we have been able to devote our energy to the administration of the workroom and to the care of the women we employ, secure in the thought that every month a cheque sufficient for our needs would be forthcoming.

To those large-hearted men and women whose work and money have made this possible we tender our grateful thanks, and express at the same time the hope that the glorious success of last year's campaign will be repeated.

E. FRANCES MORKILL, President, Women's Workroom Executive Committee.

A CANADIAN RULE FOR EUROPE

To the Editor:—The suggestion of the visitors from Finland that a Canadian might make a successful Governor-General of Europe is very nice. It sounds so easy! But, mark you, we must remember that all these people of different nationalities who are living together so peacefully in Canada are under one flag, and subject to the British Commonwealth Law.

One is reminded of the suggestions that have appeared from time to time with regard to an International Police Force. One writer quoted the French Foreign Legion as an example of how men of all nations can work together, but he forgot to mention that the first requisite on joining is sworn allegiance to the French flag.

We must remember that we have not arrived at this enviable state that we now enjoy without fighting for our liberties. Also, we must bear in mind that underlying our peaceful appearance there is many a sore spot, not of disloyalty, God forbid! But there are—throughout our great land of Canada—many injustices and unrighteous practices that must be corrected; beams to be removed from our own eyes before we can see clearly to remove the mote from the eyes of others.

It has taken many years to make things work as well as they do, and they can be made to work much more smoothly, if and when we establish the Golden Rule as a scientific, economic practice.

(MRS.) MAUD BARCLAY, R.M.D. NO. 1, Victoria.

BELIEVES IN GOD—NOT DOCTORS

To the Editor:—I read in your paper about the Victoria Health Week. Dr. Felton, medical health officer for Victoria in a health campaign, claims hygiene sanitation and medical treatment is much needed and the people are slow to be educated to these facts. I will admit that the learned M.D. is right but when he accuses people who will not accept a delusion as an established fact because he says so and many of his learned medical fraternity says so, I think he does us all an injustice.

I do not believe inoculation or vaccination is either necessary or as potent and healthful as many would like us to believe. I have studied the subject and

OAK BAY COUNCIL BRIEFS

The tender of Ames & Company for $5,500 worth of local improvement bonds at 4½ per cent for 10 years at $103.28 was yesterday afternoon accepted by the Oak Bay Council.

Babbacombe Road, which runs down to the water from Beach Drive and adjoins Premier Pattullo's home, will be closed to the public next month under the Plans Cancellation Act, Mr. Pattullo applying to the registrar when the Oak Bay Council refused to close the road two weeks ago. The council will not object to the road being closed.

Oak Bay Wanderers Rugby Football Club was yesterday afternoon given permission by the Oak Bay Council to use the floodlight system at the Oak Bay Park for night practices.

A mechanical musical instrument, invented in 1849 by Michael Wette, which resembled a pipe organ, but imitated the tones of orchestral instruments, was known as an orchestration.

HUMOR IN ART LECTURES

To the Editor:—Your correspondent Gladys Shrapnel evidently took the statements made by recent summer school lecturers very seriously. Had she looked at them from a humorous point of view these statements should have caused her little or no concern.

The lecturer on "Art Appreciation" was the most humorous of all. First he told us that the cathedral is a sham, simply because the exterior was constructed of ferro-concrete. Since the building was made specially to worship God—and supplies its purpose admirably—what difference does it make whether it be made of concrete, wood or plaster?

In other lectures his statements were equally humorous, telling us that "Canadian Art" is different, and has now little or no connection with British or European art. More's the pity if this be so—but it is not—since a thorough study of Canadian art (pictorial or plastic) will prove that Canadians have been greatly influenced in the past and are now much indebted to British and European artistic traditions. Even the "Group of Seven" cannot get away from these traditions.

The report of another lecture makes more humorous reading, and one cannot but feel sorry for any person who is so much out of touch with the practical side of artistic expression.

SEPTEMBER 23, 1913 (From The Times Files)

Final approval will be given the plans and specifications of the new eight-room Quadra School at a special meeting of the school board this afternoon.

In discussing the recent lamentable wreck of the Pacific Coast steamer State of California and the stranding of the C.P.R. steamer Princess Maguinna, both of which occurred in Alaska waters, seafaring men here are inclined to believe that these uncharted rocks which have caused the mishaps have sprung into existence as the result of earthquakes, and the United States hydrographic parties should not be blamed for executing their survey work in faulty manner.

The first of a series of concerts to be held during the ensuing months at the Seaman's Institute took place last evening, the occasion being specially for the purpose of formally opening the new piano presented to the institution by Mrs. Pemberton Sr.

Dutch May Migrate Here

Amsterdam Bankers Arrive After Launching Australian Scheme

Dutch migration to Canada under a scheme similar to the British land settlement proposals recently outlined here by Sir Henry Page Croft, is a possibility of the near future, it was intimated by C. H. Dreyer, who with F. J. Entrop, both of Amsterdam, Holland, reached Victoria by the Aorangi from Sydney, N.S.W.

The two Hollanders, representing the Twentsche Bank of Amsterdam, are returning home after launching a land settlement scheme in Australia.

They will make a study of conditions while passing through Canada.

There will shortly be a movement of Dutch settlers to Aus-

The proposal was looked upon with favor in Australia, he said. Based on the community idea, as is proposed in this country, the settlers will go out to equipped farms financed by the Dutch syndicate. The Netherlands government is interested in the migration scheme.

"These awful stomach Pains—I can't go on"

"Don't worry dear—I've got great news for you"

"You're not going to go on suffering those sharp pains. You're going to enjoy your meals like other people—without any fear of distress, sickness and pain afterwards! And it isn't going to be any miracle. You are going to beat that stomach trouble of yours with exactly the same powerful alkalies prescribed by stomach specialists—by taking Maclean Brand Stomach Powder."

Stomach suffers everywhere and there is nothing like Maclean Brand Stomach Powder. It brings such quick relief from pain. And here's why. Excess acid, eating away at delicate stomach walls and setting up inflammation is almost always the cause of stomach trouble. The four alkalies in Maclean Brand Stomach Powder counteract the acid and lay a protective coating over the inflamed parts. That's why relief comes so quickly—and why the stomach is able to restore itself to health.

Ask your druggist for Maclean Brand Stomach Powder. Do not accept an inferior substitute, but ask for Maclean Brand Stomach Powder, which is only genuine if the signature "Alex. C. Maclean" appears on bottle and carton. In bottles in cartons, 75c. Never sold loose.

Colwood Women Name Delegates

The monthly meeting of the Colwood Women's Institute was held Wednesday afternoon in Colwood Hall, with Miss Kelly presiding. The following delegates were appointed to the South Vancouver Island convention: Mesdames J. Goodall, S. Vallis, R. B. Murray and J. Hopwood.

A vote of $50 was made to the Queen Alexandra Solarium from the proceeds of the Hatley Park Garden Fete, the money to be used in purchasing equipment the Solarium needs.

Mrs. S. Vallis exhibited interesting pictures of scenes and churches of Nova Scotia, giving an interesting address.

A former president, Mrs. J. Hopwood, and her daughter, Mrs. P. Hodgins, were welcomed back to the district and to the institute. A mat, made and donated by Miss Kelly, was won by Mrs. E. Peatt.

A silver tea, under the auspices of the Junior Branch of St. John's auxiliary, will be held next Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. Matheson, "Six Acres."

New Twin-engine Light Transport Built of Plywood

LOS ANGELES—Demonstrating that although the all-metal airplanes may have captured the headlines they have not driven other materials out of the smaller plane field, a new twin-engine seven-passenger plane built of molded plywood has been completed here.

Known as the Bennett Bi-motor, the new craft has a gross weight of nearly 7,000 pounds, of which one-third is useful load. It is powered by two 330 h.p. or 350 h.p. engines. Its cruising speed is 196 miles per hour.

Feature of the plane is a smooth plywood skin glued onto the fuselage frame. Plywood is also used in the wing, aileron and tail surfaces.

Unusually clean lines recalling the beautifully streamlined appearance of high performance gliders characterize the ship. Such clean lines, attributed to the use of the plywood material, are held partially responsible for its relatively high speed.

Nearly 9,000 different types of electric light bulbs are made by one American manufacturer.

Charcoal for Campers
WASHINGTON—Charcoal for the fires of campers in national and state parks is being produced as one means of getting use out of wood otherwise wasted, reports W. H. Wirt of the U. S. National Park Service, in the Journal of Forestry.

The work is as yet in a semi-experimental stage of development, but results are regarded as encouraging. The charcoal is produced both in the old-fashioned earth-covering kilns and in retorts improvised out of sections of discarded steam boilers with used crank-case oil for fuel.

Since charcoal fires burn without smoke or sparks, they are more agreeable to the campers, as well as safer to have going in the woods. Parks producing more charcoal than can be used locally "export" the surplus to less favored ones suffering from fuel shortage.

Policy Condemned

LONDON (CP-Havas)—The executive committee of the British League of Nations Union yesterday adopted a resolution condemning the government's policy in the Czech crisis.
"We believe that such a policy is disastrous to British interests and fatal to British honor and that whatever may be its immediate results it will in the end lead to war," said the resolution.

New Winnipeg Housing Project

WINNIPEG (CP)—Plans for a $1,463,000 low rental housing project which would provide accommodation for 474 families were considered yesterday by the Winnipeg city relief works and housing committee. The plans will be given further study.

The project would cover 12½ acres, of which three acres would be occupied by buildings. The plot would be encircled with three-story apartment houses with houses located in rows inside.

Unit costs for suites with two bedrooms, a living room, kitchen, dinette and bathroom, amortized over 35 years, would be $22 a month. The flats in the houses would cost $22.30 and the suites with one bedroom $19.25.

In order to cover fixed charges and carrying charges, including light, heat and water, the project would have to bring in $132,375 annually.

Pressure Kills Cells
ST. LOUIS—Extreme high pressures are deadly to cells, in much the same way that heat is, Dr. Basile Luyet of St. Louis University has discovered.

Dr. Luyet placed cultures of yeast in a steel cylinder and raised the pressure by means of a piston to as much as 6,500 atmospheres (more than 10,000 pounds per square inch). Under the ultra-microscope the protoplasm showed minute, structural changes identical with those displayed by protoplasm in cells killed by heat.

As with heat, high pressure killed some of the cells before it killed others. At 5,000 atmospheres, 20 per cent of the cells were dead at the end of a minute, but there were some survivors after ten minutes. At 6,500 atmospheres the initial kill was larger and more rapid—50 per cent—in about 10 seconds. But here also there were some stubborn cells that did not want to die, even at fairly long exposures.

IMPERIAL BANK'S USEFULNESS TO CANADIAN BUSINESS

CANADA'S FISHERIES

Consider the men who go out with nets and trawls and gather the harvest of the Lakes and the Seas. Theirs is a life of adventure and toil, of hardship and danger. Their effort and daring added $39,000,000 to the national income of 1937.

Canada's fish are caught, processed, sold and shipped with the assistance of bank credits. Bank service facilitates the business of these hardy toilers of the sea—and of the great inland waters of Canada—as it does those who pack and ship the products of their catch, and who handle them through the various channels of distribution and trade.

Imperial Bank of Canada serves this business as it serves all other legitimate Canadian business, with promptness, courtesy and good will.

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

PLAYED THEMSELVES out of basketball. That is what may be said about the Edmonton Grads, Canada's world famous women's aggregation, should they disband as hinted this week by J. Percy Page, their well-known manager. Like Connie Mack's famous Philadelphia Athletics in major baseball, the Grads are just too good. There is not a team in the world to provide them with even interesting competition.

That explains the reason for the poor patronage the team receives in its home town of Edmonton. The fans refuse to go and watch the Grads win as they please. But just let one of these visiting clubs from the United States kick the tar out of Page's girls, then the gym is packed. The cash customers flock to the next game as they feel the Grads have at last run up against a team capable of holding its own.

Take that famous series in 1933 with the Durant Cardinals, for instance. It was the one series in which the Grads were defeated in their long string of victories. Those games attracted the biggest crowds in the history of the Edmonton club. The Grads are one team that never lets up. No matter how big the score is they keep on piling up the points. No one has ever been able to point a finger at the Grads and accuse them of laying down.

Basketball situation in our own backyard promises to provide some interest in the next few weeks. We learn that the Victoria and District League will have at least two, and possibly three, new senior A men's entries for the season. The definite number will be known after Monday's meeting when entries will be taken.

Clubs known to be definitely in the race are those to be handled by George Gordon and "Colly" Chambers, while it is possible Carl Coates will move his last year's Canadian Scottish up into senior company. Which all means the Dominions will have home competition if they again enter the league.

Members of the organizing committee of the Elks Football Club are anything but pleased over the action of the British Columbia Football Commission in refusing the local team a franchise in the Intercity League. We understand they are going to continue the fight for a berth in the circuit and may even carry the question to the Dominion Football Association.

They may make another appeal to the B.C. commission, have the case reopened, and meet with success, but we can't see the D.F.A. stepping into the argument. It is purely a provincial matter and the Dominion body is not likely to overrule a decision of the B.C. moguls. Those responsible for the organization of the Elks put forth some good arguments, but then again other parties against the plan claimed their case was just as strong. Apparently it was, or the commission would not have ruled against granting the franchise.

In the opinion of the writer, the question is settled once and for all. If the B.C. commission cannot see eye to eye with the Elks and grant the franchise there is nothing much that can be done about it. After all, the commissioners are the rulers of football in this province and what they say goes.

German Team Holds Lap Margin Over Pedens in New York Bike Race

NEW YORK (AP)—The German team of Kilian and Vopel retained a one-day lead in New York's six-day bicycle grind today as the race to nowhere passed the 120th hour. Behind the Germans were Torchy and Doug Pedens, who were ahead on points, 369 to 332.

Kilian and Vopel, who have dominated the six-day bike racing field the last couple of years, moved into first place for the first time since the race opened at midnight Sunday. With the finish scheduled for tomorrow night a great battle was expected between the Europeans and the two brothers from Victoria, B.C.

Dr. Pook Wins Third Straight Speedy Western Bred Captures Handicap at Willows

A Douglas's Dr. Pook, a speedy son of the prairie sire, Dr. Joe, won the third straight victory at the Willows race track yesterday, capturing a nose decision from some Turley in the feature Nantona handicap.

But Dr. Pook was lucky to get the long end of the purse, for he jumped some Turley going around the first turn, and it is premature the Somer's Heir fully would have won it. The locally owned Dr. Mike, Stable's Mac Pherson was only half a length back for third.

Dr. Pook's performance was really overestimated by the brilliant win of His Selection, a son of Turk-Bartola, who gathered his fourth successive pot by winning the first from Miss Nantona. He was also, in front from wire to wire. Once again the feature overlooked him and he started at 11 to 1.

The antiquity The Pagan at last found a field he could beat in the fifth, winning in a common canter at the prohibitive odds of one to five.

The second dead heat of the meeting was recorded in the last event when the favorite, Bowery Six, staged a sterling finish under the veteran Emil Spoor's clever handling and just caught H. M. Fullerton's Brownie at the post.

P. Actonson's western-bred Western Boy scored his second straight win with a two-length margin in the third over Sweet Polka.

All in all the public did a fine job of picking the winners. Five of the wagering favorites came home in front and Mortgage Lifter, which took the fourth was heavily fancied.

SPENCERS PRACTICE

Spencer's soccer team will hold a workout at the Athletic Park Sunday morning at 10:30. All members of the team are asked to attend.

Looking in the best of health and still wearing that engaging smile, Morry Robinson, Vancouver, ranked as No. 1 man in amateur riding circles in British Columbia—and it could probably be extended to include the whole of Canada—arrived in Victoria yesterday aboard the liner Aorangi, en route for home after a 10-month stay "down under."

Robinson was one of the trio of professional riders who represented Canada in the British Empire Games at Sydney, Australia, last year. Other members of the squad were Ray Lampard of Toronto and George Graves of Montreal. While the trio failed to crash the top honor list they made a good showing, especially the Terminal City rider, who came fifth in the 6-mile feature. He is also said to have equalled the world's second-best record in the 1000 metre sprint event.

Arsenal Meets Villa Will Be Feature Clash of Tomorrow's English Soccer Card; Queen of South, Scottish Leaders, Tackle Partick

LONDON — Now that the majority of English soccer clubs are convinced prospect of a European war are fading, those who have been marking time in the transfer market are getting down to business. Many clubs, seeking services of outside players in order to remedy weaknesses, have been afraid to buy lest war abruptly ended the soccer schedule.

Paying the biggest fee since he became manager of the second division Southampton entry, Tom Parker has obtained the services of Tom Emmanuel, former Swansea and Arsenal fullback. He also transferred Griffiths, 19-year-old outside-right, to Leicester of the first division, for a substantial sum. He will use Emmanuel against Notts Forest tomorrow.

Bastin, Arsenal's international left-winger, who has had an off season, has been given a three-weeks' holiday to enable him to regain his form.

The Gunners, who shifted from 18th place to a tie for 16th with Stoke City and Brentford, following their victory over Wolverhampton Saturday, will use in Bastin's place young Dennis Compton, English test cricketer, in their tough assignment against fifth-place Aston Villa this weekend.

Compton at left wing showed dazzling form against the Swiss Wanderers, beaten 3 to 2 by Arsenal Wednesday. If he repeats in the Aston Villa fixture he soon may join the select band chosen to represent England in both soccer and cricket.

Everton, well on top in the first division, is expected to add to their two-point lead over Derby County after meeting Huddersfield tomorrow. Huddersfield are in 21st place. Indications are Everton's line-up will be unchanged from last Saturday. Derby also supposedly has an easy job in meeting the 17th place Stoke City.

Injuries have played havoc with Sunderland. The 11th place club will have six regulars absent when they encounter Brentford.

Three teams also are tied for third place in the first division—Celtic, Partick Thistle and Hamilton Academicals. Celtic encounter Raith Rovers of Glasgow and Academicals play Falkirk at home.

East Fife, only second division team ever to win the Scottish Cup, is making a strong bid to enter senior company, only one point behind the first-place Cowdenbeath. Neither team has lost a match to date, though East Fife has drawn two against Cowdenbeath's one.

East Fife should have no trouble tomorrow against the weak Edinburgh City outfit, but Cowdenbeath may find strong opposition in Morton, last year in the major league.

SEEK HOCKEY RULE CHANGES

Art Ross and Conny Smythe Will Make Suggestions to N.H.L.

TORONTO (CP)—Allotment of separate duties to the two referees assigned to a game will be proposed to a National Hockey League meeting here tomorrow by Art Ross, manager of Boston Bruins, it was learned yesterday.

Ross' proposal is that one official call penalties and the other call offside plays.

Conny Smythe of Toronto Maple Leafs will urge that the color of goal-posts and crossbars be standardized. The Leafs' leader maintains goals in some N.H.L. rings present poor targets because their color is the same as that of the background.

Lacrosse Battle Billed Tonight

Bluebirds and Bays
Tangle in Second Game
of Title Series

Coach Ted Menzies' James Bay stickhandling squad will be out at full force tonight to try and get the scalps of Harry Sargison's smooth-working Bluebird boxla aggregation when they meet in the second game of their best-of-three intermediate city championship series under the lights at the Athletic Park. The faceoff is set for 8.

Another bumper crowd is expected to be on hand for this important struggle, which should produce lots of action. Bluebirds won the opening game of the series 13 to 8 and if they emerge on the long end of the score again tonight it will give them the title.

Ed Popham and "Red" Baker will referee. Teams follow: Bluebirds—M. Smith, N. Coates, E. Holyoak, B. Blousfield, J. Pickford, Gillis, D. Coates, O'Connell, McCorkall and Ball. James Bay—E. McKim, R. Winterburn, W. Allan, R. Clark, A. Cullin, R. Mason, J. Sargent, D. Turner, A. McKim, F. Sargent, C. Thomas, B. Dakers, P. Williams and S. Clark.

Adanacs Will Engage Nelson

Opening Game of B.C.
Box Lacrosse Final
Scheduled Tonight

NEW WESTMINSTER—Nelson Maple Leafs, on whom the Interior British Columbia city has placed its hopes for the provincial—and Dominion—box lacrosse crowns, arrived here yesterday and began to work out the "train kinks" in preparation for their first game with New Westminster Adanacs here tonight.

After depositing their luggage at a hotel the 16 Maple Leaf players were taken to Queens Park Arena for a workout.

Coach Clifford McKinnon said his team was fully prepared to give Adanacs, victors over New Westminster Salmonbellies in the Intercity League play-offs, a good battle for the Kilmarnock Cup, emblematic of British Columbia lacrosse supremacy.

Winners of the Provincial Cup series will represent British Columbia in the Dominion finals for the Mann Cup.

Elks' Club Calls Soccer Meeting

The Elks Club organizing football committee will hold an open meeting in their headquarters this evening to discuss the local soccer situation. The meeting is open to all players, managers and any other person who is interested in the game. An invitation has been extended to the various managers of clubs in the Saturday League. The session will start at 8.

Happy Holmes Visits City

Former Victoria Hockey
Goalie Returns From
Trip to Australia

Returning from a three months' visit to Australia, Harry (Happy) Holmes, goalie for the Victoria Cougars professional hockey team, world champions in 1924-25, and runners-up to Montreal Maroons in 1925-26, passed through the city yesterday, aboard the liner Aorangi. Holmes was accompanied by his wife.

During his short stay here Holmes renewed acquaintances with Alex Straith, who was at his peak as an amateur hockey goalie at the time Holmes was playing here. The former star has changed little except that he is about 20 to 25 pounds lighter.

For the last 10 years Holmes has been associated with the Cleveland club in the International-American League, and has done well for himself. After several years of traveling with the club as manager, Holmes has now been taken into the office and placed in charge of the fine new arena built for the minor league outfit. Bill Cook, former star forward of Lester Patrick's New York Rangers in the National Hockey League, is now manager of the Cleveland team.

Holmes stated that ice hockey is just making its debut in Australia, and is certain to become a major sport within a few years. The teams are handicapped at the present time through the smallness of the rink.

When asked about the future of Murray (Muzz) Patrick, who played last season with the Philadelphia Ramblers, who are in the same league as Cleveland, Holmes said the Victoria boy would be up in the big-time this season, but he didn't think he would be with the Rangers. Holmes had nothing but praise for Lynn Patrick, Murray's older brother and a member of the Rangers. "Lynn is one of the best centre ice men in the N.H.L. and should hold his place in major hockey for a long time," Happy said.

Mr. and Mrs. Holmes continued on to Vancouver, and will proceed direct to Cleveland, where Happy will start making his plans for the opening of another season.

Tennis Tourney At High School

Coach William A. Roper yesterday called for entries in the Victoria High School boys' doubles tennis tournament which will get under way as soon as the weather is favorable. There was no doubles tournament last year owing to the lack of nets. There are some fine tennis players at high school this year and the tournament promises to be particularly keen. John MacPherson and Walter Knotts are among the best players and have been finalists in other school tournaments.

SOCER PRACTICES

The Esquimalt Meaf Market soccer team, under 16, will hold a workout tomorrow morning at 10 at Victoria West Park. Esquimalt Meaf Market, under 18, will hold a practice at the same park at 2 in the afternoon. All players and others interested are asked to attend.

Chilliwick Wins Lacrosse Playoff

CHILLIWACK — Chilliwack Mustangs took a one-game lead in the best-of-three coast semifinals of the British Columbia intermediate box lacrosse championship last night when they came from behind to set back New Westminster intermediates, 16 to 12.

Mustangs were lagging 7 to 3 as the game went into the third period, but they turned on a scoring spree that left the visitors standing still and took a 9 to 7 lead. In the final frame they outscored New Westminster, 7 to 5.

Today at the Oak Bay Golf Club Mrs. H. N. Sheffield and Miss Peggy Hadley met in the 18-hole final of the women's championship. Yesterday's semifinals saw Mrs. Sheffield defeat Mrs. B. R. Philbrick, defending champion, by the one-sided margin of 6 and 4, while Miss Bagley put out Mrs. Alex. Watson, 2 up.

At the conclusion of today's final the prizes were presented in the clubhouse by Mrs. Walter Parry.

Pittsburgh Now Rates As Cinch

Pacesetters Knock
Over Brooklyn Twice
6 to 0 and 11 to 6

Between now and the time Pie Traynor figures out the Pittsburgh pitcher he'll throw at the New York Yankees to start the world baseball series, there will be a lot of "sweet revenge" build-up in favor of Jim Tobin.

Of course, there's the sewing up of the National League pennant still in front of Pie and his Pirates. But after knocking off Brooklyn twice, 6 to 0 and 11 to 6, yesterday, the Bucs are in a spot where they can drop three of their 10 remaining games and still win, even if the second-place Chicago Cubs sweep the 11 left on their schedule.

The Cubs yesterday turned in a double win over Philadelphia in the first full National League program in four days. Bill Lee equalled a National League record with his fourth straight shutout, by a 4 to 0 count, in the opener, and Clay Bryant came through 2 to 1 in the afterpiece. The New York Giants regained third place by beating Cincinnati Reds twice, 6 to 1 and 2 to 1.

The Yankees snapped out of their eight-year record six-game losing streak by overpowering Chicago White Sox, 7 to 4. Red Rolfe and Joe Gordon hit homers in this lone game on the American League card.

Boston Bees, determined to hang on to fifth place in the National, nipped the St. Louis Cardinals twice, 6 to 5 and 4 to 1.

COAST LEAGUE

Booming bats of San Francisco Seals and Sacramento Senators had them leading the procession again today in the Coast Baseball League Shaughnessy play-offs.

It took Seals 12 innings to beat Seattle, 12 to 7, but they punched across enough runs in the final inning to win an ordinary ball game. Big Harley Boss, noisy first baseman, slapped one out of the ball park with the bases loaded after young Dominic Di Maggio hit a double and then scored on a sickly single by Ted Jennings. Ted Norbert of the Seals, home-run king of the league, hit two homers, one of them with a man on base.

The Senators assaulted three Los Angeles pitchers for 16 hits, including a homer by Larry Barton with one on and a pair of two-baggers by Johnny Vergez, to swamp the pennant-winning Angels, 12 to 2.

There will be no games tonight, but Saturday night the Senators and Angels resume their series at Sacramento with a doubleheader Sunday if necessary. Seattle and San Francisco (Turn to Page 13, Col. 5)

Remarkable Golfer

Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, Defending Champion in U.S. Nationals, Has Played Game Only Five Years

CHICAGO — Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, a slim brunette of Lexington, Ky., who won 5 and 3 from Marion McDougall of Portland, Ore. Yesterday Miss Page defeated Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite, Fort Worth, Texas, 1 up, and Miss Berg eliminated Dorothy Traung San Francisco, 5 and 3.

She never had gripped a golf club until five years ago.

Since that time she has won the qualifying medal honors in the national twice, tied for it this year and won the championship last year at Memphis, defeating Patty Berg, the 20-year-old gallery lure from Minneapolis.

Today finds Mrs. Page, a 31-year-old housewife, in the semifinals and Miss Berg again the menace. Mrs. Page plays Peggy Graham, Hollywood's gift to the tournament, who defeated Mrs. E. R. Hury, Dallas, Tex., 5 and 3 yesterday. The Minneapolis miss engages Marion Miley,

HIGH SCHOOL TEXT PUBLISHED HERE

A practical 442-page high school textbook on vocational mathematics has just been published at the Government Printing Office, under the direction of Charles F. Banfield, King's Printer.

The book is edited by W. Y. McLeish and covers the practical problems encountered in the majority of the basic industries and occupations of the world. An unusual departure, is taken inasmuch as mathematical books are concerned, in giving considerable space to provide clear mental pictures of the conditions or processes in the activity concerned.

The publication is composed of nine different sections which follow: (1) Mathematics of Finance, by C. J. Cook, B.A.Sc.; (2) Mathematics of the Mining Industry, by D. H. Rae, B.A.Sc.; (3) Mathematics of the Fishing Industry, by G. S. Wilson, M.A.; (4) Mathematics of Transportation, by P. L. McCreery, B.A.; (5) Mathematics of Building Construction, by F. R. Corp, City and Guilds of London Institute; (6) Mathematics of Logging and Lumbering, by C. F. Barton, B.A.Sc.

(7) Mathematics of Agriculture, by H. L. Manzer, B.A.Sc.; (8) Mathematics of Mechanics, by J. F. Fournier, B.A.Sc.; and (9) Mathematics of the Home, by W. R. McDougall, B.A.

The book has numerous diagrams and interesting photographs illustrating the subjects. A complete list of answers to the problems is given at the back of the book.

Tells Agents of Success Factors

Insurance Underwriters Hear Neville H. Evelyn, Toronto

Factors which life insurance salesmen should take into consideration in building up their clientele and making themselves successful representatives of their companies were outlined to members of the Victoria and District Life Underwriters' Association by Neville H. Evelyn, Toronto, assistant agency superintendent of the Excelsior Life, at a luncheon in Terry's dining-room this afternoon.

Entitling his talk "Combining Footwork With Headwork," Mr. Evelyn pointed out how an insurance salesman should plan his time in the manner of any other successful business man. This point he illustrated by noting there were specific hours when calls should be made on business men, instead of endeavoring to see them during busy periods.

Prestige would be a great help to insurance men, he said. "Are you a good citizen, interested in the development of your city, or do you let the other fellows take care of that?" he asked.

It was "vital" important that agents should know their own business thoroughly. Good books on life insurance and practical instruction should be read regularly, he said.

Frank Taylor, president, presided and introduced the speaker.

Plan to Unite Parent-teachers

New Organization Formed for Greater Co-operation

To serve as an intermediary body between federated parent-teacher associations of Victoria and the provincial organization, the Victoria and District Local Council of Federated Parent-Teacher Associations was formed at a meeting in the school board office last night.

Percy E. George, chairman of the Victoria School Board, was named chairman of the new organization and other officers named were: C. W. Pepper, vice-chairman; Joe Ross, secretary, and Mrs. G. Anstey, treasurer.

Another executive officer will be named at a meeting to be held October 13.

In explaining the aims of the association this morning Mr. George issued a plea to have as many as possible Greater Victoria parent-teacher organizations affiliate.

Membership is open only to those parent-teacher associations which are affiliated with the B.C. federation, and in this connection it is hoped that additional applications for affiliation will be forwarded from Victoria to the provincial body.

Last night there were six federated associations represented, including Quadra Street, James Bay, Langford, Gordon Head and Cedar Hill. At the next meeting it is expected at least four additional associations will be included, as they are now contemplating affiliation with the B.C. organization.

Through the local council executives hope to unify parent teacher work on the south end of Vancouver Island and present an organization which can speak with unanimity on behalf of this section before the B.C. federation.

League Told of Canada's Position

GENEVA (CP-Havas)—Any decision on the part of Canada to have recourse to war must be taken by the Canadian Government and Parliament after examining the circumstances, Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice and head of the Canadian delegation to the League of Nations, told the political commission of the League Assembly to-night.

He said Canada could not countenance any League decision under Article XVI—the sanctions article—which would force Canada automatically to take military action against an aggressor.

Witness Saw Fall to Death

Fatal Accident Described at Inquest on Robert A. Myra

A witness who saw Robert Ainslie Myra, 59, drop 18 feet through a skylight from the third to the second floor of the Colonist building on Tuesday afternoon gave evidence at the inquest at Haywards' B.C. Funeral Parlors this morning.

The jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

Howard Hazard, worker in the job press room, said he was working under the skylight where Mr. Myra was making an adjustment to a window. He heard the crash as Mr. Myra came through the skylight and fell on his head to the cement floor below.

Dr. Douglas W. Graham said Mr. Myra's death within four hours of the accident was due to the head injuries he suffered. Dennis Jobling, Mr. Myra's assistant, said they were adjusting a window above the skylight when Mr. Myra's foot appeared to slip from the ladder and he went through the skylight shoulders first.

William Kendrick, plate repairer in the job department, said he was under the skylight and ran to one side when he heard the crash. When he turned around Mr. Myra was lying on the floor.

Members of the jury were: William N. Lenfesty, foreman; Albert Martin, Archibald Hunt, David E. Pollock, Harry Simpson and Stanley James.

PANDORA AVENUE BID ACCEPTED

E. R. Taylor Construction Co. to Get Contract; New Roadway in Foul Bay

The E. R. Taylor Construction Co. Limited, Vancouver, will be awarded the contract for improving Pandora Avenue, according to specifications listed by the city engineer, when the recommendation of the public works committee is accepted by the City Council on Monday evening. The committee approved the bid today.

The tender was the lowest of five submitted for the project, for which the city will pay approximately $20,668.

Local labor will be used on the job, a special clause having been inserted in the contract calling for that policy.

The work will be undertaken on the section of Pandora Avenue from Cook Street to Fernwood Road, and will include widening, leveling, grading, draining, surfacing, and construction of curbs and gutters. It also entails movement of poles on that section of the roadway.

Acceptance of that tender was the chief business of the public works committee, which met under chairman Alderman Ed. Williams.

The new road will cut diagonally across vacant fields owned by the city from Ross and Robertson to Crescent Road, and will eliminate the section of Ross Street from Robertson to Richmond, thereby avoiding three sharp turns, and will leave a smooth sweep for motor traffic in the future. Costs of the work are estimated at approximately $4,000.

The committee also approved a request for the removal of an oak tree from property in front of 1610 Belmont Avenue.

Will Bless New Catholic Church

The Church of the Canadian Martyrs at Courtenay will be solemnly blessed on Sunday by Bishop John C. Cody of Victoria, recently returned from a visit to eastern Canada.

The new church up-island will bring to 15 members of Catholic churches, with priests in residence, on Vancouver Island. Rev. Father C. T. Albury, formerly of the staff of St. Andrew's Cathedral here, who is in charge of the new church at Courtenay, will welcome Bishop Cody and a delegation from this city.

The Church of the Canadian Martyrs has seating accommodation for 325. It is constructed of wood and brick and was built by the parishioners. Until now Catholic residents of Courtenay attended services at Cumberland and Comox.

Following Pontifical High Mass Sunday morning, and a sermon by Bishop Cody, there will be a reception in the Native Sons' Hall, with Father Albury acting as host.

Five Famous Poets

V-SHELLEY

Living at the same time as Keats was a young man who did not seem to be fitted for this world. His name was Percy Bysshe Shelley, and almost everywhere he went he got into trouble.

PERCY BYSSHE SHELLEY

At school, he did not get along with the other boys. He had a girlish face, and many of his actions seemed to mark him as "a sissy." His schoolmates liked to gather in a band and chase him, as if he were a rabbit pursued by hounds.

When he was 12, he went to Eton, one of the so-called "public schools" of England which charge large sums to the parents of the pupils. There he was angered because new boys were expected to be "fags." A "fag" is a servant of a sort, the new boy doing whatever an older pupil tells him to do. A "rebellion" against the fagging system was led by Shelley, but it did not meet success. Schoolmates nicknamed him "Mad Shelley."

Shelley went to Oxford, and made one or two close friends there. Before long, however, he was expelled for writing a leaflet against religion.

Rather shocked by being thrown out of the university, Shelley moved from Oxford to London and spent several months. Then he visited relatives in Wales. While in Wales, a letter reached him from Harriet Westbrook, a 16-year-old London girl who had fallen in love with him. She said she was not being treated well at home, and added that she might take her own life if something were not done. This foolish threat made Shelley hurry back to London, and soon afterward he and Harriet were married. The marriage proved unhappy for both.

The events of his childhood and youth were no doubt the things which made Shelley a "rebel" all the rest of his days. He did not have a long life—he died shortly before his 29th birthday—but his time was packed full of action. He became a poet, and he wrote poems which delighted some, but not all, of his readers.

Shelley's last three years were spent in Italy, where he lived in Pisa, Venice, Florence, Naples and Rome. He died in an accident. He and a friend were drowned when a storm overtook the sailboat in which they were crossing the Bay of Spezia.

During his twenties, Shelley found quite a number of warm friends, but the world in general did not honor him as a great poet. It is the test of time which has made his work stand forth, and he now ranks as "one of England's greatest poets."

Among the famous works of Shelley are "Prometheus Unbound," which he wrote in Italy, and "The Revolt of Islam." His "Ode to the West Wind" is another of his great poems.

HOROSCOPE

Saturday, September 24, 1938

Adverse planetary aspects dominate today, according to astrology. It is a time to take stock of one's mental and physical assets. Under this configuration enemies of all sorts may be emphasized and evil reports widely circulated.

Minds will be receptive to rumors of scandals. The tendency to think the worst of one's neighbors may be more widespread than usual. Speech should be guarded. There is a sign supposed to encourage deception and misrepresentation. While espionage becomes more and more general diplomacy will be put to severe tests.

Good news of international moment may be expected on this date, when writings are well directed and important contracts should be signed.

Wise women will concentrate upon their home interests under this rule of the stars.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of varied trials. For some there may be injustice to be suffered. They should be careful in speech.

Children born on this day probably will be exceedingly individual and independent. Subjects of this sign like to have their own way and may be arrogant as well as efficient.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I have been going steadily with a young man for more than two years. It is mutually understood that as soon as he is making enough money we are to be married. Some time ago he was out of work and had a chance to make a living if he had a certain sum of money with which to get started. I advanced him the necessary sum. He is gradually getting on his feet, but he will not be able to repay me for some time yet. Do you think it is quite fair for this man to take other girls out to places of amusement and spend money on them before he has repaid me? I do not want to be small about a thing like this.

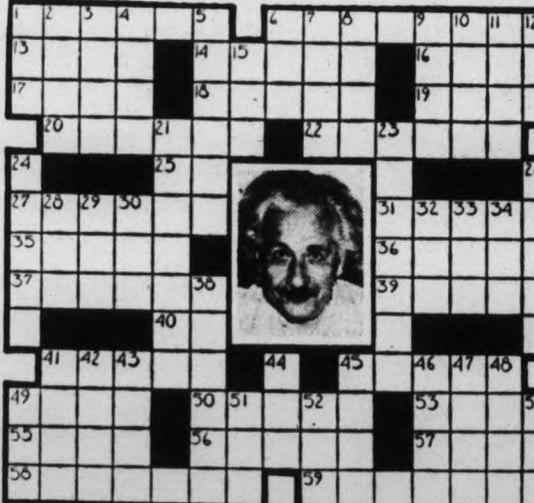

Answer: It is the hardest thing in the world for a woman to help a man with money without incurring his dislike. The old proverb that says "when you lend money to a friend you lose both your friend and your money" goes double when a woman is the lender.

I do not know why there should be something deadly in money when it passes from a woman's hands to a man's, but there is. A man will let a woman nurse him when he is sick; he will let her cook for him and wash for him and wait on him hand and foot; he will go to her for sympathy when he is in trouble; he will take her time and her labor and love her for it, but the minute he takes money from her he hates her.

Perhaps it is because it humiliates him to have to acknowledge that he is less successful than she is, less competent. Perhaps it is because he can't puff out his chest and take a lordly pose before the woman to whom he owes money. However it is, it is there, no matter how generous the woman is about it.

I think that explains why your boy friend is taking out other girls on what is virtually your money. He has to have some woman to look up to him and think he is a Napoleon of finance. When he blows these girls to a good time he inflates his self-esteem, and he couldn't do that with you.

No doubt you will get your money back, but I greatly fear you have lost your sweetheart.

Vancouver Shipping

VANCOUVER (CP) — North Pacific Shipping Company Limited today reported the freighter Gemstone had arrived here to load lumber and logs for the Orient.

Ss. Ruperra, also in to the North Pacific Shipping Company Limited, is loading for Tsingtau and Shanghai. Other vessels to the agency are the Stensby, due October 15 to load for Taku Bar, and the Ousebridge, due late in October, for South Africa.

Capt. S. Strout, owner and master of the United States yacht Igrasil, complained to port authorities of violation of the use of signals during fog in Howe Sound.

Archbishop to Visit Madras

Most Rev. H. W. K. Mowll to Attend Missionary Conference

With Madras, India, as his ultimate goal, Most Rev. Howard West Kilvinton Mowll, archbishop of Sydney, N.S.W., accompanied by Mrs. Mowll, passed through Victoria yesterday afternoon by Ms. Aorangi. The distinguished prelate was met at the boat by Dean Spencer Elliott and Bishop G. E. Lloyd. Bishop Sexton, who is in Quebec, sent a message of greeting, which was delivered to Archbishop Mowll aboard the liner.

Expressing his pleasure in again visiting Canada, Archbishop Mowll said it was his intention to visit England and spend some time there with his wife before going on to Madras to attend the World Missionary Conference scheduled to be held next December.

This conference was originally slated to be held at Shanghai, but owing to the strife in China, it was transferred to India.

Archbishop Mowll knows Canada well, having been tutor, professor and dean at Wycliffe College, Toronto, from 1913 to 1922. In 1926 he went to the Orient as Bishop of Western China.

He was last in Victoria in 1934 when he went to Australia to assume his high ecclesiastical office.

Traveling from Australia with the Archbishop is Archdeacon S. M. Johnston, diocesan registrar of Sydney, accompanied by his wife.

Archdeacon Johnston said he was looking forward to renewing his old contacts in Ceylon.

DESTROYERS STAND BY DUNDEE ASHORE

HALIFAX (CP)—Naval authorities said today officers of the British naval sloop Dundee, aground on a limestone ledge at the entrance to Ellis Bay, Anticosti Island, had warned two Canadian destroyers against approaching too close. The destroyers, Ottawa and Restigouche, while en route to give aid, were advised by radio that weather conditions made it too dangerous for them to approach.

The destroyers Ottawa and Restigouche are en route from England via Halifax to Esquimaut, where they will be stationed.

CHINESE JUNK CROSSES OCEAN

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Chinese junk, 72 days out of Yokohama, coasted slowly down the California coast toward San Pedro today.

Aboard the craft are three men and a woman—the skipper, E. Arlen Peterson, 36, of Los Angeles; his Japanese wife, Mrs. Tane Peterson, 32; Nick W. Perminoff and Victor A. Ermoloff, each 25.

The junk, known as the Hummell-Hummell, contacted the freighter West Planter 15 miles off Blunt's Reef lightship and asked that its position be reported. Blunt's Reef lightship is about 125 miles north of San Francisco.

The Hummell-Hummell arrived at Yokohama June 1 from Shanghai and sailed again July 12. The Japanese freighter Kamitaka Maru reported speaking to the junk August 22 far out on the Pacific. The junk is 35 feet long and has a 7-foot beam.

Around the DocksGREGALIA ON SUNDAY

Bound here from Glasgow, Donaldson Line Ms. Gregalia, Capt. A. Bankier, is expected to reach Victoria Sunday morning, according to advices received by Bob Cumberlough of Rithet Consolidated Ltd., local agents for the line.

Gregalia will berth at Pier 1, Rithet docks, to discharge a small parcel of general cargo and will load 1,000 cases of Saanich canned loganberries for the United Kingdom.

The vessel did not call at Guayaquil this trip and carries no bananas.

BOUND FOR TAHITI

With her adventurous crew in high spirits, the auxiliary schooner Lorna D has cleared from Victoria and is now heading down the coast for San Pedro, Cal., where she will put in for supplies before setting out across the Pacific for Tahiti via Cook.

Capt. A. J. Davidge of this city is in command of the craft.

LUMBER DOCKS CLEAR

After loading 400,000 feet of lumber at the Canadian National docks for eastern United States delivery, Ss. Harbledown cleared at 9 last night for Cowichan Bay to complete.

Next lumber ships due to arrive here are Templeyard and Sinnington Court. They are expected on Sunday for Monday morning working.

DOWN THE GANGWAYIMMIGRATION VISITOR

"Where can I find Tom Monaghan?" asked John A. Clemson, inspector in charge of the boarding division, U.S. immigration service, Honolulu, as he arrived by the motorliner Aorangi yesterday afternoon from Hawaii.

Mr. Monaghan is the head of the U.S. immigration service in Victoria. When the two met they had a real confab, for they had not seen each other for a number of years.

"I have been stationed in Honolulu for 14 years and this is my first time out in 11 years," Mr. Clemson told ship reporters.

It is a holiday trip for Mr. and Mrs. Clemson. They are returning to their old home in Washington, D.C.

SENTIMENTAL TRIP

Sentimental reasons doubtless induced Dr. and Mrs. O. J. Yule of New Zealand, who arrived by the Aorangi, to make their present trip to Canada.

They are en route from Auckland to Toronto with their little son, Master D. A. Yule.

"My wife can probably tell you more about this trip than I can. She's a Canadian," chuckled Dr. Yule, who is a New Zealand dental surgeon.

Master Yule was tugging at his sleeve, seeing his mother's country for the first time.

Five years ago Dr. Yule came to Toronto to take a dental course and it was there that he met his wife and embarked on the sea of matrimony. He has never regretted it.

TO STUDY GEOLOGY

To study geology at Harvard University, F. G. Forman, a passenger by the Aorangi, came all the way from Perth, Western Australia. He is state geologist for Western Australia.

Australian dentists aboard the liner were Drs. M. M. Brodie, G. R. Dent and J. S. Winter. They are going to Toronto for post-graduate work.

From Honolulu came Dr. Stevenson Smith, professor of FORMER HIGH COMMISSIONER HOMEWARD BOUND—Retiring from the post of High Commissioner in Canada for the United Kingdom, Sir Francis Floud sailed for England from Quebec by Ss. Empress of Britain, accompanied by Lady Floud. Sir Francis, who took over the Ottawa position in January, 1935, will be succeeded by Sir Gerald Campbell, now British Consul-General at New York. Late this month Sir Francis will retire from the United Kingdom Civil Service to take chairmanship of a commission on land tenure in Bengal, India, a task for which he is well equipped with over 30 years service in the British Department of Agriculture. Sir Francis and Lady Floud are seen above on the promenade deck of the Empress of Britain.

HAWAIIANS TO SCHOOL

Dark-skinned Hawaiians, with multi-colored leis around their necks, traveled from Honolulu by the Aorangi, en route to the United States.

One of them, Harris Gonsalves, a picturesque specimen from the island of Maui, is going to the Western Washington agricultural college to study irrigation.

Traveling with Gonsalves was an Hawaiian-born American, Harry Schubert, en route to Washington, D.C., to take up a government post.

PREDICTS RECESSION

One of Australia's biggest business men, Charles Lloyd Jones, chairman of the board of directors of David Jones Ltd., Sydney, N.S.W., department store, and president of the Australian National Travel Association, reached Victoria yesterday afternoon with his family on a world tour.

With his wife, two children, David and Charles, and Miss P. I. Hughes, a niece, he will proceed from Victoria to San Francisco, Los Angeles and Chicago, and after a side-trip into Canada through Winnipeg, will go on to New York, where he will represent Australia at the World's Fair next year. He will then visit the United Kingdom and Europe, returning home next September.

Mr. Jones predicts a general business recession in Australia following years of gradual recovery since the depression years. Failure of wheat and wool prices to regain last year's losses is given as the main factor. The Australian government, he said, is considering pegging wheat at $1.13 a bushel in order to carry the farmers over the second year of lower prices.

TWO YEARS' RESEARCH

To spend two years' agricultural research in the United States, J. G. Crawford, economist of the Rural Bank of New South Wales, arrived here by the Aorangi on his way to Washington, D.C.

He will make a study of agricultural problems in the United States, which he said were similar to those in Australia, particularly in respect to farmers' relief and soil erosion measures.

He is especially interested in the "Triple A" (Agricultural Adjustment Administration) experiments in the United States.

TAKING OVER SHIP

Capt. W. A. Gray of the Union Steamship Company of New Zealand, who was a passenger by the Aorangi, is en route to the United Kingdom to take over another of the company's freighters building for the Australasian trade.

The New Zealand company has had a dozen ships built in British yards and navigating officers have been going through Victoria over a period of months to take over the vessels on completion.

Suit Filed for Cargo Damage

Oil Company Seeks $45,000 From Owners of Ms. Beulah

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Standard Vacuum Oil Company of New York filed a maritime libel action in Federal court yesterday asking $45,000 damages from J. Moore & Company Inc. of San Francisco for deterioration of a cargo of oil and petroleum products shipped from San Francisco aboard the motorship Beulah, December 14, 1937.

The complaint, which seeks an attachment against the ship, alleged the cargo, which was destined for delivery in the South Seas, was delivered instead at Victoria, B.C., in a deteriorated condition.

The ship called at British Columbia ports, but as it sailed away, it encountered a heavy storm. Its cargo shifted, and the ship listed so sharply it was necessary to put in at Victoria. While the Beulah was tied up there, it sank, and was not raised until last March. The oil and petroleum cargo was badly damaged.

Carriso Inc., owner of the Beulah, has pending in Federal court proceedings asking that their liability be limited.

Ms. Beulah was damaged in a gale in the Straits of Juan de Fuca December when bound for the South Seas, and reaching Victoria in a badly-listed condition, sank at the Ogden Point docks. She was raised after several months by the Pacific Salvage Company and is held in the Inner Harbor here pending an action in Admiralty Court in connection with the salvage.

Has Praise for Municipal Body

The Oak Bay council, at its meeting yesterday afternoon, heard a report on the meeting of the Union of B.C. Municipalities at Nelson earlier this month from Councillor Wm. Ellis, one of the delegates, who attended with Reeve R. R. Taylor and Municipal Clerk R. F. Blandy.

"I am happy to say that the Oak Bay delegates took an active part in the debates and also that they well-maintained the dignity and prestige of our municipality," Councillor Ellis stated in his report.

E. H. Bridgman, deputy Minister of Municipalities, attended the sessions and in his address gave much valuable advice. The report continued, "It is felt that his advice can and should be of lasting benefit to all those engaged in municipal work."

"The U.B.C.M. is, in my opinion, a most valuable institution. Its members are closer to the lives and thoughts of the general public than any other administrative body. Through it the municipalities can speak with one voice when dealing with the government of the province. Through it every city and municipality can be represented and all delegates are assured of patient and sympathetic hearing."

"The successful achievements of the U.B.C.M. in the past warrant its active support. Its future success depends, not only upon the general support it receives, but upon the whole-hearted co-operation of all cities and municipalities, one with another, for the one purpose of the public good."

R. F. Blandy was congratulated by the council on his long record with the union. The Reeve remarked that Mr. Blandy had attended 21 consecutive meetings as representative of the municipality of Oak Bay and for 14 years had been a member of the executive. Mr. Blandy's first meeting was in Duncan in 1917.

CRANE USED TO RAISE SEINER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The 69-foot purse seiner, Frigidland, which capsized yesterday 24 miles southwest of the Golden Gate, was being slowly pulled out of the water today by a giant crane at pier 25.

The freighter, which settled below the water line when the combination of a shifting load of sardines and a heavy swell upset her, was towed into harbor in a submerged condition last night by the salvage tug Sea Ranger.

Gaelic Spoken By Maoris

New Zealand Aborigines Learned It From Nova Scotia Settlers

Gaelic, the language of the Scottish Highlands, is spoken by the Maoris of New Zealand, according to Dr. C. L. Bennet, professor of English at Dalhousie University, Halifax, N.S., who returned by the motorliner Aorangi yesterday afternoon from Auckland.

The New Zealand aborigines learned the language from a colony of Nova Scotians who originally came from the Highlands of Scotland, said Dr. Bennet, in an interview given aboard the liner while in port.

These settlers, which are of the same stock as Nova Scotians, went to New Zealand over 50 years ago. They talked Gaelic, as their descendants still do, and the native Maoris, mingling with them, were quick to pick up the language.

It was pointed out by Dr. Bennet that the original Highland settlers in Nova Scotia located at St. Ann's, Cape Breton, and the colony that went to New Zealand settled at Waipu, in the northerly section of North Island.

Dr. Bennet went to New Zealand to address university groups, clubs and societies on the subjects, "Town Planning in Canada and the United States as Related to Homes and Gardens" and "Gaelic Settlement in New Zealand which Originated in Nova Scotia."

He also made two radio broadcasts which were heard over the New Zealand network.

BECOMES FREEMAN OF CRANBROOK—When Sir Edward Beatty, G.B.E., K.C., LL.D., chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, attended Cranbrook's Pioneer Reunion the other day, he received the freedom of the city and heard himself extolled as an outstanding Canadian and head of the company which 40 years ago forged the Crow's Nest Pass link of its great railway system into the rich Kootenay country. Sir Edward is seen receiving a silver tray commemorating the occasion, from Mayor T. M. Roberts. On Sir Edward's left is Judge G. H. Thompson, who swore him in as a freeman of the bustling East Kootenay city; Ross H. McMaster of Montreal, director of the Canadian Pacific Railway, is at the extreme left of the picture.
